

11 Jurors Chosen for Kickback Probe Teacher Starting Pay Will Be $4,200

State Word On Schools Due Soon Valley Starting Salaries Higher

A new pay schedule for Kingston teachers for the year 1958-59 was adopted Monday night by the local board of education with a beginning salary of $4,200.

The schedule is one which had been originally proposed for the school year 1959-60.

In view of sharp competition for teachers and the fact that many other communities in the mid-Hudson Valley area have higher schedules than Kingston, it was felt that an improved pay schedule was a must.

Under the new schedule, teachers with a Bachelors degree will be paid from $4,200 to $6,600 depending on length of service. Those with a Master's degree will be paid from $4,500 to $6,900.

Making Study

The board is also studying the problem of integrating the salaries of teachers in the outlying area under consolidation.

A decision on consolidation is expected from the State Education Department some time this week. The board voted for consolidation last April but a local group petitioned the State Education Commissioner to set it aside on the ground that a public referendum had been opposed to an enlarged city consolidation.

Dr. Earl Soper, superintendent of education, and his staff are studying the matter of salary integration and will report at a meeting of the board July 1.

See No Difficulty

The board has in its hands a recommended salary schedule for teachers in the five rural schools which would function under the proposed consolidation.

It is believed that the scale in the rural schools can be smoothed into a common schedule without too much difficulty if consolidation becomes effective.

Go for Better Jobs

It was granted that "comparisons are invidious" but was pointed out at the same time that in recent months the teachers committee of the board has had great difficulty in teacher hiring because of competition with schools which have better salary schedules.

It was explained that many applicants who were interviewed went away and weren't heard from again, presumably having taken better-paying jobs.

Will Mean $45,000 Hike

It is estimated that the new pay schedule will mean an increase of approximately $45,000 in the budget.

The salary of Principal M. Clifford Miller of Kingston High School was increased from $9,500 to $10,000 for the ensuing year.

There was some discussion of the integration of salaries of rural principals under consolidation.

For instance, the salary of Principal Reginald Russell of the Chambers School is $9,500—$1,400 more than the highest salary paid an elementary school principal in the city of Kingston. The salary of Principal Ambrose Boyd of the George Washington School is $8,100.

John Vines, chairman of the rural advisory committee and president of the board of trustees of the Chambers School, who is attending board sessions in a liaison and advisory capacity, pointed out in explanation of the Russell salary that the principal was really a kind of "small superintendent," that his duties extend far beyond the ordinary functions of a principal.

Worth Every Cent

"To us next year Mr. Russell is worth every cent of $9,500," Vines told the board.

Vines also expressed the view that the teaching staff is the "heart" of any educational system and that the profession should be paid accordingly. He said he would personally favor a beginning salary of as much as $5,000 for teachers.

It was pointed out by the board that a number of Russell's

Living Costs Reach New Record in May

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's living costs hit another new record in May but registered the smallest monthly rise since December.

Tempelaar Gets Year Probation In County Court

Harry P. Tempelaar, 31, former Kingston police officer, indicted for criminally receiving stolen property, appeared in County Court for sentence under a plea of guilty to the charge. County Judge Louis G. Bruhn suspended imposition of any sentence at this time and placed defendant on probation for a year. Bail was exonerated.

Born in Yonkers, Tempelaar said he was employed as a field clerk and resided at 143 Clinton Avenue here. The indictment charged Tempelaar with having obtained an automobile tire.

John Hayward Jr., Ellenville, entered a plea of guilty to two counts of a four count indictment which charged him with possession of obscene and lewd literature and pictures and having in his possession films and a movie camera on October 4, 1957. He entered a plea of guilty to the second and third count of the indictment.

Hayward was given a three months jail sentence and a $100 fine under each of the two counts, the jail terms to run consecutively. In lieu of payment of the fine he is to be confined to jail for each $1 of the fine unpaid. The other two counts of the indictment were dismissed.

A civil action on trial for the past several days in County Court was continued.

163 KHS Graduates Going To College, 50 Get Grants

A total of 163 members of the graduating class of Kingston High School have been accepted at institutions of higher learning. It was reported to the Kingston Board of Education Monday night.

Of this number, almost 50 have scholarships of one kind or another amounting to approximately $45,000.

There are 373 students in the graduating class.

It was pointed out that the number accepted for college study was the highest of local record.

A contract for 922 seats in the KHS auditorium was awarded to a Texas firm on a bid of $19,223.70. The seats will be of rubberized hair with Holiday nylon covers

Urges Ave To Recall Lawmakers Mahoney Anxious For Labor Bill

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney warned Gov. Harriman today to call the Legislature into special session now or face a rough campaign fight over labor racketeering.

Mahoney, a top contender for the Republican nomination for governor, issued his new demand for a special session at a pre-election strategy conference of GOP state senators.

Good Campaign Issue

He told the caucus that the Democratic governor had given the GOP a "formidable campaign issue" by vetoing an anti-rackets bill the Republican-controlled Legislature passed at last winter's regular session.

But, he continued in his prepared remarks, "it is my sincere hope that clean labor can be kept out of politics and that Gov. Harriman will join us in a sound, thorough, non-partisan legislative program."

Harriman, who is seeking a second term, has answered previous demands from Mahoney by saying the subject needed long study and a bill would be drawn up for the 1959 Legislature.

Talk Opens Parley

Mahoney's speech opened the two-day annual conference, conducted behind closed doors. Interest in this year's meeting was heightened by Mahoney's growing stature as an undeclared gubernatorial candidate.

Mahoney pointed out that the Republican labor bill Harriman vetoed was based on recommendations of one of the governor's own study committees, headed by Prof. Clyde Summers of the Yale Law School.

The measure would have required union officials to account regularly to the state and their members for the funds they handle.

Harriman said the bill was poor.

Council Meeting Tonight on Street Fund of $161,500

City aldermen will consider authorization of a $161,500 expenditure to cover the cost of proposed street repairs and rebuilding program at the Common Council meeting tonight at 7 o'clock. The meeting recessed from June 17 was scheduled a half hour earlier than the usual time.

Of the sum needed, $150,000 would be earmarked for major rebuilding of streets, and $11,500 for repairs.

The meeting was recessed for one week to permit Republican members of the council sufficient time to study the proposals.

City, County Officers Elected Monday at Girls' State Parley

Newly elected city and county officers of the Federalist and Nationalist Parties at the 17th annual meeting of Empire Girls State at New Paltz Teachers College were slated to be conducted on a tour of city and county offices today.

They are: Mayor, Carol Eckhardt, Hamburg; county judge, Emily Cho, White Plains; surrogate, Betty Ann Solomon, Brooklyn; commissioner of public welfare, Bonnie Peaslee, Boilvar.

Federalists — Alderman-at-large, Angelina Pasculli, Staten Island; county treasurer, Ellen Blauer, White Plains; district attorney, Beverly Hausser, Gahanda; sheriff, Barbara Kelly, College Point, and county clerk, Marianna Clover, Schenectady.

Mark McCloskey, chairman of the New York State Youth Commission, Albany, was scheduled to speak this afternoon on "Being Young in America."

Finance Topic

Wednesday morning Clark D. Ahlberg, director of the budget, Albany, will speak on "State Finances."

Sunday afternoon Mrs. James Cunningham as head of the Federalist Party, appointed Emily

Civil Service, School Vacancies Filled Mrs. Hogan, A. T. Gilday Appointed to City Posts

The appointments of two commissioners—one to the Municipal Civil Service Commission, another to the Kingston board of education were announced today by Mayor Edwin F. Radel.

Mrs. Rose M. Hogan of 49 German Street was appointed commissioner to the Municipal Civil Service Commission. Her appointment is effective immediately, and expires June 1, 1964.

She replaces Robert B. Murray of 28 Merritt Avenue whose term expired June 1.

Andrew T. Gilday of 275 West Chestnut Street was appointed as commissioner of the board of education for a five-year term which begins July 1.

He replaces Chester A. Baltz Sr., of 70 Clinton Avenue, who serve two five-year terms.

Active in Community

Mrs. Hogan, reportedly the first woman ever appointed to the commission, currently operates the WB Drive-In restaurant at 338 East Chester Street. She was employed for 12 years as a bookkeeper by Zwick and Schwartz, produce dealers of 36 O'Neil Street.

A charter member of the Ulster County Democratic Women's Club, she served as secretary and vice president. In 1952 she originated the organization of the Mother's March on Police in Kingston. Later the promotion was used throughout the county. She is a member of the Ulster County Democratic Committee.

Her husband, John J. Hogan, is a representative of Dutches Beer Distributors Inc., East Chester Street Extension. They have a son, Jay.

With Hercules 30 Years

Gilday, assistant office manager at Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen, and an employee of the firm for 30 years, is a former Democratic alderman of the Third Ward. He served part of a term in 1942 when he was called to the Army. His father, the late Patrick T. Gilday, succeeded him and served out the term.

Active in fraternal and community activities, Gilday is a past grand knight of Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus, and past faithful navigator of Kingston Assembly 275, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus. He was a member of Local Board 18, Selective Service, Kingston Post 150, American Legion; Wiltwyck Hose Company No. 1 and St. Mary's Holy Name Society. He is also a member of the P-T-A of School No. 2 where four of his five children attend.

He is married to the former Jane Elston.

The appointments will be announced at the Common Council meeting tonight at 7 o'clock.

Few Tickets Are Left to Honor Ex-Police Chief

Although the reservation list is about completed for a testimonial dinner Thursday in honor of Raymond Van Buren, retired Kingston police chief, a few more tickets are available.

This was announced today by President William Slover of the Kingston's Patrolmen's Association, sponsoring organization. He said anyone desiring to attend the event should phone headquarters for tickets no later than Wednesday at 7 p. m.

The dinner is open to the public, and is not just for members of the police department.

N. LeVau Haver yesterday moved, after the first member of the special grand jury panel had been called for examination, to be permitted to examine the prospective jurors on behalf of the Landsell Corporation of Hackensack, N. J., one of the firms which has been prominent in the city.

Chamber Retail Committee Asks Anti-Noise Enforced

A recommendation to request officials to enforce Kingston's ordinance "Regulating Noises from Radios and Loud Speakers," adopted on June 4, 1941, will be made to the board of directors of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce by its Retail Merchant's Committee.

This action was taken at a meeting of the Retail Committee yesterday in the Governor Clinton Hotel. Several other decisions were also made.

A spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce stated that the "loud speaker" issue was taken up at the request of several members after the Uptown Merchant's Association addressed a letter to the Kingston Common Council asking that restrictions against the use of amplifying units on public streets for commercial purposes be studied.

It was pointed out that both the cities of Newburgh and Poughkeepsie have severe restrictions against the use of sound am-

Long List Given Out For Check Haver Is Refused Any Examination

At noon today 11 grand jurors were impaneled for the extraordinary term of Supreme Court here for the probe of alleged irregularities in county government.

Six were selected Monday and five more today in the court of Special Justice Henry Clay Greenberg appointed by Governor Harriman to preside.

Special Prosecutor Bernard A. Tompkins, also chosen by Harriman to conduct the probe of alleged kickbacks to officials, emphasized in examining prospective jurors that:

Insists on Fairness

"We do not want any political overtones, and no partisan politics in this investigation."

The five selected this morning (two others were challenged and dismissed) were:

Lillian Shaw, Highland, housewife.

Walter Almond Lawrence, 4 Hemlock Street, Town of Ulster, an engineer.

Mrs. Jennie K. Lockwood, Hurley, housewife.

William Clarence Hughes, Highland Avenue, an IBM employee.

Peter Rode, New Paltz, Quality Control Department, IBM. He said he was a licensed school teacher, but never taught.

Six jurors selected Monday were:

Alfred M. Platt, Kingston, real estate.

Mrs. Agnes Peterson, New Paltz, wife of a State Teachers College custodian.

John W. Lawson, Kingston, IBM secretary.

Mrs. Leona McLean, Port Ewen, housewife.

William R. Putnam, Mt. Marion, business man.

James M. Lynady, Kingston, IBM.

63 Excused Monday

Of the 150 Grand Jurors summoned, 63 were excused by the court on presentation of excuses Monday in court, by physicians' certificates or by reason of being out of the state and not served. One grand juror was absent and Sheriff Bell was instructed to contact the juror and ascertain the reason for the absence.

After excuses had been excused there were 86 prospective jurors remaining. During the afternoon 14 were examined out of which the six jurors were accepted.

Mrs. Audria Warren, Hurley, was absent and Attorney John Wilkie appeared in court in her behalf and requested that she be permitted to report later since she was out of the state on a business trip. Justice Greenberg permitted her later appearance on consent by Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins.

Haver Can't Examine

N. LeVau Haver yesterday moved, after the first member of the special grand jury panel had been called for examination, to be permitted to examine the prospective jurors on behalf of the Landsell Corporation of Hackensack, N. J., one of the firms which has been prominent in the city.

Confers Here With Wilson

Rockefeller Is Set To Enter Race Soon

Nelson A. Rockefeller, who visited Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Ulster County Republican County Chairman in Kingston Monday, is set to declare himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, an Associated Press report in Albany said today.

Rockefeller lunched with GOP leaders in Albany yesterday and later visited in this city with Wilson who described the meeting as a "social visit."

Still for Mahoney

Wilson, who has previously announced himself for Sen. Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, State majority leader, said after the visit of Rockefeller that "he has not changed his thinking and would support Sen. Mahoney's candidacy for governor."

Rockefeller, meanwhile, denied again Monday in his visit to Albany that he was a candidate. However, the AP report said, he was "very grateful" for the support announced the same day by the Franklin County Republican chairman, Hayward Plummer.

Observers noted that Rockefeller's visit was his first trip upstate to confer with political leaders. He was accompanied by Assemblyman Malcolm Wilson, a fellow Westchester County Republican who has been beating the drums for Rockefeller in the upstate territory.

Discuss Politics

Assemblyman Wilson's comment on his visit here with Rockefeller told the press "Naturally we discussed politics and the governorship was discussed informally at our meeting."

Wilson, asked as to his impression of Rockefeller, a former federal government executive, said "he appears to be very capable and personable and I was impressed but I have not changed my thinking in regard to my previously announced stand on the Republican candidate for governor."

Wilson added that he still thinks "Mahoney is the candidate for governor."

Mahoney was the keynote speaker at the unofficial Republican

CHESTER A. BALTZ

His Term Over On School Board After 10 Years

The term of Chester A. Baltz, a 10-year member of the Kingston Board of Education, expired with the meeting Monday night.

The local manufacturer, a prominent business and civic leader of the community for many years, has held many important chairmanships as a member of the local board, including more recently the vital teacher's committee and the Greater Kingston Area Consolidation Committee.

Baltz was appointed in 1948 by former Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk.

Gilday Successor

His successor to be named at the Common Council meeting tonight by Mayor Edwin F. Radel is Andrew T. Gilday of 275 West Chestnut Street, former Democratic alderman of the Third Ward and assistant office manager at Hercules Powder Company at Port Ewen.

preciation to Baltz for his splendid services to the board—gratitude for what the retiring member had done for education and children of the city.

President Robert Herzog, the only member of the board who was serving when Baltz joined the group 10 years and two months ago, told Baltz he had enjoyed tremendously his association with him and expressed his appreciation for a job well done.

Gets Warm Praise

Baltz was also the recipient of warm praise and congratulations from other members who noted the expiration of his term with regret.

In 1949-50 Baltz served as chairman of the building committee of the board, in 1950-51 as chairman of that committee and the auditorium committee.

In 1951-52 he was chairman of the important teacher's committee.

Vice-President Twice

In 1952-53 he was elected vice-president of the board and served as chairman of the teacher's committee and a special problems committee.

In 1953-54 he was chairman of the teacher's committee. In 1954-55 he was again elected vice-president of the board and served as chairman of the teacher's committee and the Greater Kingston Area Consolidation Committee.

In 1955-56 he continued as chairman of the two vital committees—teachers and consolidation. In 1956-57 he was succeeded by David Kline as chairman of the consolidation committee but retained the chairmanship of the vital teacher's committee.

Watertown Native

A native of Watertown, Baltz came to Kingston in 1908. Prior to coming to Kingston he attended Clayton High School in the Lake Ontario area and St. Lawrence University at Canton where he received his BA degree in 1904.

He came to Kingston as an employee of Aikenhead and Co., remaining with this firm until 1920 when he went into business for himself, establishing the present firm, C. A. Baltz & Son, Inc.

Company President

He has also opened two other plants—one at Salem and the other at Granville.

He serves as president of the company which has now been in existence for more than 38 years.

He is also president of the board of directors of the YMCA, a trustee of the Home of the Aged, a charter member of the Kingston Kiwanis Club of which he served as president in 1926, and a member of Rondout Lodge, F&AM.

Baltz is a member of the First Baptist Church. He has served as a trustee of the Ulster County Savings Institution since October 18, 1949.

dents had been accepted to institutions of higher learning, the largest number of local record, and that these students had filed an average of three and a half applications apiece to colleges of their choice.

Warren Russell, director of audio-visual education in the local school system, said that under consolidation he would need a full-time assistant and two office employees. He pointed out also that the department needed more office space, sound proofing, and a station wagon for transportation.

Russell reported that the film library would need additions, including second prints, film strips, etc. He said there was very little equipment in the rural areas with the exception of Hurley, Tillson, Chambers, Port Even and Lake Katrine Schools, and that much was needed to bring this equipment up to the level of the city of Kingston.

Accepts Resignations

The board accepted the following resignations with regret:

Mrs. Lorraine Hutton, School No. 3; Anatol Epstein, KHS English; Gustave Mueller, commercial; Mrs. Diane Damerlau, math, and Miss Mabel Mericle, a nurse-teacher at the George Washington School.

It made the following appointments: Ann Fehskens, kindergarten, $4,050. She will graduate from New Paltz State Teachers College with a BS degree this summer.

Herbert M. Dandes, school psychologist, $7,000. Dandes has a BA from New York University and will receive his MA from Syracuse in August.

Mrs. Maureen Misner, dental hygienist, $4,050.

Miss Janice Hall, English, $4,050. She will graduate from Denison University this summer.

Miss Paula Weiner, commercial, $4,050. She is graduating from Syracuse this month with a BS degree.

Mrs. Carolyn Van Gaasbeck, elementary, $4,350. She has a BS from Plattsburgh State Teachers College and two years teaching experience at Germantown.

Edwin R. Hedman, social studies, $5,900. He has been teaching in New York City for a number of years and has his Ph.D. degree.

The resignation of Mrs. Barbara Vega, stenographer in the office of the board of education, was accepted with regret. Mrs. Joyce Stedman was appointed as provisional stenographer at a salary of $2,950 effective July 1.

Dr. Soper reported that a total of 104 pupils have registered for elementary summer school which will be held at the George Washington School. There will be five classes.

The board approved a proposal that when, under consolidation, an elementary principal has under his administration supervision 20 full-time classroom teachers (not special teachers) the superintendent be authorized to require his services on an 11-month basis with a salary increase of one-tenth extra for the 11th month.

Strike Idles Thousands

DETROIT (AP) — The government's attention was drawn today to labor trouble at Chrysler guided missile plant developing as an offshoot of the auto industry's no-contract period.

A wildcat strike by United Auto Workers members idled several thousand men Monday at Chrysler's Redstone and Jupiter parts factory and resulted in a "total loss" for the day's first shift.

Picketing members of UAW Local 1245, which represents about 450 of the plant's 9,500 employees, blocked gates to protest what they called company discrimination against union members. Chrysler denied this.

The UAW has had no contracts at the industry's Big Three — Chrysler, Ford and General Motors — since expiration of the old three-year pacts on the Memorial Day weekend.

O'Brien Hopeful

Congressman Leo W. O'Brien of Albany, who has been an ardent supporter of statehood for Alaska, said he hoped the flag would have 49 stars by this time next year. Alaska is one-fifth the size of the United States and twice as large as Texas. He called attention to the tremendous steps science will make within the next 50 years.

Matthews served as moderator of a forum Saturday afternoon with 12 panels of six girls each discussing various teen-age problems. Among these were: What does America have to give besides money? What are our obligations to our country? Are part-time jobs good for teenagers? Keep women out of college—right or wrong? What are the causes of juvenile delinquency? Should 15 or 16-year-old girls and boys be issued driver's licenses?

Will Take Year To Recover From Slump, He Feels

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Asst. Secretary of Labor Newell Brown said today the recession has "definitely hit bottom" but that it will take the nation a year to recover from its effects.

"By this time next year, the country will be back to the 1957 economic level," he said in an interview. He is here for the University of Michigan's 11th annual Conference on Aging.

As indices of the pullout, he cited a leveling off in unemployment, an increase in home building, a jump in freight shipments and a rise in service jobs.

World Briefs

SALVADOR, Brazil (AP)—Two stores of fireworks for religious celebrations exploded Monday, killing more than 100 persons and injuring some 340 others.

The government of Bahia state took steps to ban all fireworks. They are traditionally set off on the June festival days of Saints John, Anthony and Peter. The highest reported toll was at Santo Amaro, near Salvador. An electric power line broke and fell across a fireworks booth at a fairgrounds. The resulting fire touched off an explosion that killed about 100 persons and injured 300.

The second fireworks explosion, reportedly killing seven and injuring 40, occurred at Feira de Santana, northwest of Salvador.

BOMBAY, India (AP)—A small Dutch freighter carrying 400 tons of American military explosives to Pakistan, Iraq and Iran has been abandoned off the Indian coast after an explosion and fire.

Reports received in Bombay said Capt. Ven Den and the 10 crewmen of the 469-tonniger swam ashore. One crew member was reported injured. The ship was said to be lying almost burned out offshore southeast of the Pakistan border and 140 miles from Karachi. Loss was estimated at between one and two million dollars.

TOKYO (AP)—A committee began making plans today for a meeting here Aug. 12-20 of the "Fourth World Conference Against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs and for Disarmament."

Dag Back In Beirut

BEIRUT (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld returned to Beirut today after two days of trying to persuade President Nasser to help bring peace to Lebanon.

There was no indication that Hammarskjöld had won any agreement from the President of the United Arab Republic to use his influence with the Lebanese rebels seeking to replace the pro-Western government of President Camille Chamoun with a regime more sympathetic to Nasser.

U. A. R. officials said Nasser had reiterated to Hammarskjöld his insistence that the Lebanese rebels are getting no aid from his forces and that the Lebanese rebellion is entirely an internal crisis.

Hammarskjöld on his return met first with the three heads of the U. N. observers group seeking to check on any infiltration of aid to the rebels from the U. A. R.

Later today he was to see Premier Sami Solh and President Chamoun.

The U. N. official is scheduled to return to New York Wednesday.

Boys Admit Burglaries

NEW YORK (AP)—A gang of 14 boys has admitted two score burglaries of factory and loft buildings in Long Island City.

A 13-year-old admitted cracking three safes. The boys, ranging in age from 13 to 16, were rounded up by police Monday.

Police said the total loot ran into several thousands of dollars. In Rockaway Beach Monday night, police arrested 14 youths armed with an assortment of weapons including baling hooks, lug wrenches, a length of pipe filled with cement, and sawed-off broomsticks.

The boys were held on a variety of charges. They were quoted by police as saying they came from their homes in Coney Island seeking to avenge a beating administered to one of their friends in Rockaway Beach a few days ago.

American Nun Safe In Warsaw Convent

WARSAW (AP)—A 72-year-old American nun is safe in a Warsaw convent after a 10-day disappearance in Communist territory.

Sister Cajetan of Chicago went to the U. S. Embassy as soon as she arrived here Monday. Then she was taken to the convent of the Sisters of the Resurrection.

She was not willing to talk about her disappearance. She still carried the $1,000 she had brought to Europe as a gift to Polish orphans from Catholics in Chicago.

Sister Cajetan left Vienna by train June 13 and should have arrived the next day at her destination, the Polish Shrine of Czestochowa. The trip took her across Communist Czechoslovakia.

Sister Cajetan, whose name was Mary Gorski, was born in Poland. She is expected to remain in Warsaw about three weeks to complete her mission.

Heavy Rain Puts Off Vanguard

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)

— The Navy's temperamental Vanguard rocket—America's No. 1 satellite launching vehicle—flunked another test today.

After hours of hard work, the Vanguard crew gave up at 1:34 a. m. on another heart-breaking effort to get the slender rocket with its "basketball moon" off the ground.

The Navy said heavy rains had caused an accumulation of moisture in the rocket's wiring system which led to electrical short circuiting.

It was the second time in four days that the crew had been stymied in its effort to get this particular Vanguard off its launching pad. It was scrubbed last Thursday night after a long countdown.

A TOOL FOR THE JOB

When the Civil Aeronautics Administration was created 20 years ago, there were about 11,000 civilian planes in the United States. These aircraft, slow and unwieldy by present standards, made some 150,000 takeoffs and landings. Passengers of scheduled airlines numbered 1,300,000.

In 1958, an estimated 67,500 aircraft are operative. The number of takeoffs and landings has zoomed to the astonishing total of 25,200,000. Scheduled airlines will have carried about 50 million passengers before the year is out.

These figures reflect the tremendous development of air transportation during the past two decades. They also indicate the magnitude of the problems which become ever more urgent as planes increase in speed and number.

Two similar plans for a unified federal air agency have been submitted to Congress, one by President Eisenhower and the other by a group of senators. Either plan would coordinate government efforts to improve air safety and traffic control; both civilian and military flights would be regulated. Creation of such an agency would be a wise step toward air traffic control commensurate with the jet age needs.

THE INDIVIDUAL'S PART

The wide gap between mankind's astonishing material progress and the much slower advance of the social sciences has often been noted. Yet it is good, when the point is skillfully made by a speaker or writer, to think the matter through again. For the well-being of the race may depend on man's ability to narrow this gap.

Jerry Voorhis, executive director of the Cooperative League of the U. S. A., told the Roosevelt University graduating class in Chicago that the problem of making the social arts fully able to deal with the fruits of scientific progress will be solved, not by international agreements and government leaders, but "by communities—true communities where understanding, tolerance and mutual aid prevail."

That may sound over-idealistic. Voorhis brought it down to where it belongs, at the level of the individual. Don't say, "It's too confusing for me to understand and too big for me to do anything about," he advised. It is good advice for all who want to help make reality of that ancient dream, the true community of man.

Soviet Ambassador Menshikov says dangerous tension exists between his country and the United States. If he'll just look down the road to peace, he'll see the U. S. where it has been for some time, waiting patiently at the halfway mark.

A financial writer once defined money as "something that passes through our hands on the way to Washington." Death recently ended this writer's career, but the flow of money continues unabated.

U. S. SENATE EXAMPLE

Premier De Gaulle reportedly favors splitting the French legislature into two bodies—a weakened National Assembly, and a strong senate. If the senate were patterned after the American example, the change could be one of great significance.

The Senate is, understandably, the more conservative branch of our national legislature. While the entire House of Representatives must stand for election every two years, no more than one-third of the Senate's membership can be changed at any one election period. This tends to insulate the Senate against precipitate action by the electorate. The provision also gives senators greater freedom to consider possible long-range effects of what they may do.

The Senate has often been criticized as being slow to act and seemingly indifferent to the public pulse. Its posture of aloofness has severely irritated more than one president. But the Senate also lends con-

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
A QUESTION OF LOGIC

John H. Baker, writing in "Outdoor America" on the danger of our being poisoned by DDT and similar chemicals, opens his article with this paragraph:

"What is the greatest threat to life on earth? The Communists? No. The fact that so many people now think they constitute the greatest threat is pretty sure indication that they do not."

I do not quite understand. If we all agree that Soviet Russia is a threat to us, does that prove that it is not? If the Western world fears the impact of Communism, does that mean that there is no such impact? If everybody believes that black is black and red is red does that mean that all is white?

Actually, Baker is not making much of a point of his paragraph. What he wants to show is that the real menace of the age is toxic chemical treatment of the soil from airplanes to kill bugs. But the logic of that paragraph is intriguing.

Truly, the Communists are a much greater menace than ants or DDT now because Soviet Russia is adopting the most effective weapons of capitalism to not destroy capitalism but to reduce capitalist countries to impotence. And the most important and powerful of such weapons is gold.

As one reads the discussion on the subject of gold in the transcript of the Byrd Committee, it is impossible not to reach the conclusion that a very large amount of the gold held in Fort Knox no longer really belongs to the United States because of foreign balances and the actual sale of American gold to foreign countries. Senator George Malone, interrogating Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, raised the question as to what would happen if some European country demanded its ear-marked gold. Malone asked:

"Suppose your suspicions were aroused by a $3 or $4 billion demand: could you yourself make the decision not to sell it to them or not to let them have it for the dollar balance?"

Trying to find out what happened to the gold in Fort Knox was like pulling teeth, slow and painful. For instance, such a discussion as the following was characteristic of the general tone:

"Senator Malone. Who owns that gold? Who owns that balance?"

"Secretary Humphrey. Private holdings."

"Senator Malone. In what way do they differ from the regular foreign official holdings?"

"Secretary Humphrey. Well, these are dollar balances of the private individuals in United States banks."

"Senator Malone. Does it have to be in United States banks?"

"Secretary Humphrey. Well, I think it is all in United States banks. It is dollar balances."

"Senator Malone. Well, the dollar balances, the dollars they might demand for currency, are not necessarily in domestic banks of the foreign official holdings, are they?"

"Secretary Humphrey. Well, these are not foreign officials. These are foreign individuals."

"Senator Malone. I understand that, but is it necessary for them to be in banks here? Could they not be in a bank in Europe?"

"Secretary Humphrey. I do not know."

"This goes on and on but gets nowhere at all. Apparently nobody knows anything of what has been happening to our gold in Fort Knox. How much belongs to the United States absolutely?"

Both Senator Malone and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey were getting on each other's nerves as the following question from Senator Malone shows:

"The next question is how long would it take them, the individuals, to transfer it to a government central bank over there which could demand it here?"

"Secretary Humphrey. Well, I do not know. There are all sorts of varying restrictions. . . . It would be different probably in each country."

Now, to get back to Baker's statement that because many believe something "is pretty sure indication" that it is not so, the world has for many centuries put great faith in gold as a basis for currency. The United States departed from the gold standard in Roosevelt's first term and never returned. We put our gold in Fort Knox as a treasure trove. Now Soviet Russia is beginning to use gold as a weapon against the West and it is important to know how much gold we own absolutely. We could be defeated by gold in world trade.

Modern Surgery Offers Best Method for Treating Hernia

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

A correspondent writes that he has been troubled for more than a year with a hernia resulting from an accident. This, he says, gives him a great deal of discomfort from time to time in spite of the fact that he wears a truss.

Questions concerning hernia arise frequently. Actually a hernia, or a rupture, is a weakness of muscles and other tissues which are supposed to hold the organs inside in place.

A hernia can occur, therefore, in several different regions, but this particular inquiry probably refers to a rupture in the groin, the most common spot for hernia in men. This discussion will therefore be confined to that type.

The first question is what causes a hernia.

This is difficult to answer, though it is generally believed that the essential weakness is probably inherited or present at birth. However, this weakness may not show up in any serious manner unless some heavy strain has been put on the weakened tissues by lifting something too heavy or by a similar injury.

Once a rupture has developed, it is likely to get gradually worse and may even get so bad that some of the organs lying in the ruptured sac can become strangulated and cause serious complications.

There are three possible lines of treatment for hernia.

The simplest is to wear a truss or support which may keep the sac and abdominal contents more or less in place. This may be reasonably satisfactory for a person who does not do heavy labor, though there is always some danger that a sudden strain will cause trouble. Also it is a nuisance.

Nevertheless, there are many people who can wear a truss for many years with fairly good success.

Some years ago the injection treatment was suggested for hernia. The purpose of injection is to irritate the inside of the hernia sac so that a firm scar will form at the point where the hernia bulges and force back the contents of the sac where it belongs.

This method requires several treatments and carries some risk. Also, the scar tissue formed is not always strong enough to bring permanent relief.

Although the injection treatment still has some advocates, it is probably not used as much as it was formerly and appears to be less desirable than surgery in most cases.

Surgery is the most effective treatment. By this means the contents of the sac can be put back in place and a firm covering built up at the weak point so that the organs are kept where they belong.

The hernia occasionally returns after such operations, often because of the carelessness of the patient, but modern methods of operating have improved the technique so much that fewer and fewer recurrences occur.

Considerable stability to our political action. The French would do well to pattern their senate after the U. S. example.

The Soviets Stalk the Land

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — We bumped into Harry Vaughan, former President Truman's military aide, the other day, and you have never seen such an impish grin as the one he was sporting.

"Well, we have got a new member of the TCIW Club," he chuckled.

"Come again?"

"Sherm Adams. Sanctioned Sherm. He's now a member of the Toe Caught in a Wringer Club. Deep freezes. Hotel suites. It's all the same."

Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams came in for almost as much needling at a recent Saints and Sinners luncheon as the actual fall guy, White House Press Secretary Jim Hagerty.

The Saints and Sinners is a charity organization that is famous for poking fun at prominent Washington personalities.

In one skit, the joker portraying Hagerty was asked if he ever had any trouble getting along with Adams. "No, I know how to control Sherm," he answered. "Every time he starts to give me trouble, I just ask him to recommend a good hotel in Boston."

There were at least a half dozen more hotel jokes during which Adams, who was a luncheon guest, managed a stiff half smile.

New definition for a Russian freeloader — "A people's party eater."

Recently we reported that Aly Khan, debonair Pakistan UN diplomat, was secretly coming to Washington each weekend to visit an unidentified petite brunette who drives a black Thunderbird.

The handsome ex-husband of actress Rita Hayworth is still sneaking into town. But now it's a tall brunette with a white sports car. Aly's new flame picks him up at dawn each Saturday and Sunday morning at his exclusive Georgetown residence.

The neighbors, however, are more irritated than interested in this romance. The new girl honks for Aly instead of ringing his doorbell.

Guests dropped in on a prominent host who couldn't find his butter when it came time to mix the drinks. Two of the visitors ordered vodka and tonic. Being in a generous mood, our host poured them double shots of vodka.

After sipping their drinks, both guests commented on the smoothness of the concoction and asked what brand of vodka was used. You can imagine the host's dismay when he checked the bar and discovered that he had poured double shots of water into the drinks. An empty vodka bottle had served as a water carafe.

"Somebody took the label off the bottle," he explained. "But it's a brand nobody will ever detect on your breath."

Sack dresses went completely unnoticed at a reception the other evening when Mrs. Senarat Gunewardene, wife of the ambassador of Ceylon, showed up in one of the most unusual outfits ever seen at a Washington party. Although the temperature was boiling, she wore a large mink stole over a long red sari.

Hungarian diplomats previewed the biggest flicker fiasco of the season as far as audience appeal is concerned. The first film shown to guests at an embassy reception, was a dull number about the daily life of a Hungarian artist. The second dealt with Kruschev's April visit to Budapest and was loaded with anti-U. S. speeches by the Kremlin boss.

Not even a sumptuous buffet could soothe the irritation of non-Communist guests. Most of them stalked out right after the show.

Gets Lammie Medal
BUFFALO, N. Y. — Dr. Harold S. Black, inventor of dozens of electronic devices, has been awarded the Lammie Medal, one of the nation's top engineering honors.

Black, a research engineer for the Bell Telephone Laboratories in New York, received the award Monday from the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, which opened a five-day summer meeting.

The medal was established by the will of Benjamin Lammie, a partner with the late George Westinghouse in developing many basic electrical devices.

L. F. Hickernell of Dobbs Ferry was elected president of the institute. He is vice president of engineering for the Anaconda Wire & Cable Co.

De-Pigeon Campaign
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A pigeon's life isn't all fun in Tucson. A policeman heard a couple of gun shots and saw two pigeons fall to the sidewalk. Then another blast and another pigeon tumbled on one of the city's busiest intersections. The policeman found Duane Jackson, a bank employee, perched on a ninth floor window ledge with a rifle. Jackson told the officer he shot at pigeons every morning. He produced a letter signed by Mayor Don Hummel giving the necessary authorization. The officer left. Jackson returned to his hunting.

Burden Seen Now on Those Urging Little Rock Delay

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Reason—the greatest antidote to violence—will have perhaps its biggest test as applied to an internal policy if the order just issued by the United States District Judge Harry J. Lemley, postponing school integration at Little Rock, Ark., for the next two and a half years, is not reversed by a higher court.

For the judge's order puts the burden of action on those who feel that delay is needed and that the time can be utilized effectively to adjust the differing points of view at Little Rock.

Two and a half years is not a long time in which to seek a cooling of passions and an adjustment that has been complicated by a number of state laws and constitutional provisions on the integration problem not yet passed upon specifically by the Supreme Court. These conflicting laws are the subject of many pending suits in the lower courts which will take at least two years to decide.

Superintendent Virgil Blossom of the Little Rock schools — a critic of Governor Faubus and a man who has tried earnestly to end segregation—asked the district court for the delay of two and a half years. He pointed out that it took from 1619 to 1865 before the first major change occurred in civil rights for Negroes. Then from 1865 to 1896 the second period elapsed before a second change — "separate but equal" school facilities—was ordered by the Supreme Court.

Finally, it took fifty-eight years from 1896 to 1954 before the third change was effected and compulsory segregation was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

Mr. Blossom said that "when you look—in terms of the time required to change cultural patterns—at the slowness with which local laws are moved out of the way and recognize the fact that the Supreme Court spelled out in its 'all deliberate speed' philosophy certain logical legal reasons for delay, one of which is 'local laws,' it was obvious that the high court anticipated in its rulings that local conditions would necessitate some delays."

Judge Lemley pointed out that the Supreme Court in its decision specifically recommended to lower courts that they use "practical flexibility" and shape their remedies "by a facility for adjusting and reconciling public and private needs." Carefully analyzing the testimony of the school superintendent, the judge said:

"In the instant case it is not denied that under the Brown decision (of the Supreme Court) the Negro students in the Little Rock district have a constitutional right not to be excluded from any of the public schools on account of race; but the school board has convincingly shown that the time for the enjoyment of that right has not yet come. That showing applies to the Negro students who were in the school last year as well as to others."

Practical Situation
Judge Lemley's opinion shows that he took account of the practical situation—the conflict between the predominant thinking in the community and the letter of the law. He declared:

"The incidents and other matters just referred to, plus the presence of the troops, which was in and of itself a distracting influence, created throughout the year a situation of tension and unrest among the school administrators, the classroom teachers, the pupils and the latter's parents, which inevitably had an adverse effect upon the educational program; and we find that said program was seriously impaired, that the orderly administration of the school was practically disrupted and that educational standards have suffered."

We further find that unless a stay is granted, the same situation will prevail when school opens in September and that the impairment of the educational program and standards will continue and will probably grow worse."

This presents a vexing issue for any review court to which the order now is taken on appeal. If the order is reversed, the remedy proposed by the district judge will be nullified completely. Usually a reversal pending an appeal to the Supreme Court seeks to maintain the existing situation so far as is practicable without injury to either side. The assumption that the Court of Appeals must deprive the people of Arkansas of an opportunity to solve their own problems carries with it an implication that they can immediately do so three months from now when they couldn't do it all last year. There is nothing in the record of the case to warrant such an assumption.

If, however, there are no troops stationed at the school and the separation of the races is temporary—in what Superintendent Blossom has described as a "tactical delay but not a surrender," with the object of securing desegregation—there is a chance for the processes of reason to be put into operation. Plainly, there is less danger in delay than in the continuance of the state of affairs which in the past school year impaired the educational process at Central High School. That's the basic issue, and if reason can be substituted on all sides for impatience and passion, a notable victory will be won that will resound throughout the world.

Today's Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP) — The two big mysteries in industry today—ones that could affect your pocket-book both directly and indirectly—are:

1. What, if anything, are the steel companies going to do about prices a week from today when a higher wage scale goes into effect? Such a cost boost in the past usually has meant higher prices for steel and later for a host of products made of steel.

2. What will happen in Detroit if a new labor contract isn't signed before the auto companies are ready to start turning out the 1959 models? If there's a strike it could be a nasty one, delaying general business recovery — if there's a wage-price hike as settlements it could make many families take another look at their budgets and at their present agitating cars.

The betting is about even that a steel price hike will come fairly early in the summer. Some companies, particularly the small firms, feel they can't absorb the new labor costs for any length of time.

The large companies with their greater financial resources and reserves could put off price hikes for some time. If they do, it will be rough on the smaller ones.

Steel management figures that boost in wages and fringe benefits totals about 20 cents an hour. Management says that is equal to $11 a ton more for steel.

But many feel that in view of the uncertain demand for steel after the present rush to beat a price hike subsidies it will be hard for the mills to make more than a $4 or $5 price advance stick.

But what worries government and other observers is whether a steel price hike on the heels of the wage increase will be a signal for a general wage-price spiral again throughout industry and trade. In time such a fillip to inflation would hit everyone's pocketbook.

The present hesitancy of the large steel companies to say what they are going to do about prices might be based on such a consideration.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON
IN THE HURRICANE'S EYE

That's how I see it. Behind us lies the wreckage of two World Wars, plus Korea. Ahead lie the blasts of the Russian-Chinese Communists. We are in a lull between conflicts. No one who has any awareness of history doubts it. But we abhor war and would rather not think about it.

The people of Europe seem to have their heads in the sand. Those who are anti-Communist simply refuse to face realities. France and Italy, full of Communists, are soft with Russia. Trouble grows in the Middle East.

Realists believe that war is certain. When? No one outside the Kremlin knows that. Probably not for a few years. Maybe it will be just a continuation of the cold war which will liquidate our savings through inflation. Then we'll be in real trouble. Food will be tightly restricted and our $'s cut to ribbons.

What can we do about it? We can do something. We can rediscover a love for our land and prepare a place in the country. After the next war the only property worth owning will be tangible property—productive land, factories, and useful goods of all kinds. Wealth in the form of paper promises will dwindle—bonds, mortgages, Social Security, pensions, annuities—like Confederate bonds and money after Appomattox.

Only those who look ahead with the eyes of stark realists will survive the coming hurricane. But, by God's grace, it may be deflected.

Double Squeeze for Big Slam

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

How would you play today's hand at seven spades? Don't reply, "under an assumed name," because South's bidding is just mildly aggressive, not downright insane.

Louis Watson points out that after you win the opening diamond lead you take the king and ace of spades. If spades break you spread the hand; as it is you go after the hearts. If hearts break you even nothing can hurt you. Actually, they break four-two but again nothing hurts you since East, who holds the four hearts, also holds the last trump and has to follow suit helplessly while you ruff out your heart loser.

The play illustrated by Watson is one that is well worth knowing and an example from recent tournament play will be given tomorrow, but there is a lot more interest to this hand. With a club opening only, Watson's play will make the grand slam. With the actual diamond opening, the hand can be made on a double squeeze.

Just cash six spades, discarding one card of each suit from dummy. Then take the second high diamond, whereupon East must go down to a singleton club in order to keep the hearts

Cherry Growers To Operate Under Marketing Order

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The first fruit and vegetable marketing order in New York's history will cover the growers of sour cherries.

In a statewide referendum Monday, the vote was 332 yes and 79 no. One ballot was blank and one void. A two-thirds favorable vote was necessary for adoption of the order.

Agriculture Commissioner Daniel J. Carey said growers would meet in Rochester Wednesday to nominate persons eligible for appointment to the commissioner's advisory committee.

Sixteen cherry producers will be nominated and five of them will be appointed to a nine-member committee, Carey said. Others to be named are three processors of sour cherries and one consumer representative.

Under the order, which will take effect July 1, an assessment of as much as $3 a ton will be made on sour cherries for processing. The money would be used to promote the sale of cherries.

McElroy, Burke in Stew For Giving Their Views

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—This is a tale of how two men got into trouble by saying what they thought.

Everybody agrees that in a democracy military commanders must be controlled by civilians. But it raises a nice question: What civilians?

For instance: the military commanders are subordinate to their civilian superior, Secretary of Defense McElroy.

But Congress is jealous of its right to question military commanders, even if it means they publicly disagree with McElroy and try to defeat his ideas.

When President Eisenhower asked Congress to permit him to reorganize the Defense Department, the House passed a bill giving him pretty much what he asked.

Few Exceptions

But it made a couple of exceptions. This was one:

If McElroy wanted to abolish some functions of one branch of the service or transfer them to another branch, then the chief of staff of the Army, Navy or Air Force—all under McElroy—could protest to Congress.

And under the House-passed bill, Congress could repeal McElroy's order. Neither McElroy nor the Eisenhower administration liked this arrangement.

So, when the bill moved over to the Senate, McElroy asked the Armed Services Committee to knock out this section of the House bill.

But then the committee called on Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, for his views. They were contrary to McElroy's.

He said, in effect, that if McElroy wanted to take away some function of the Navy, and Burke thought it bad for the country, he wanted to be free to tell Congress so.

This opposition from Burke caused McElroy to tell reporters: "I am disappointed in him (Burke), regard it as regrettable."

Could Rest With Ike

Would this end Burke's career? McElroy said "I have no plans to have his position changed" but "I am not the only one responsible for his future."

This could be interpreted as meaning Eisenhower, the only one above McElroy responsible for Burke's future, might punish the admiral.

McElroy hurried to deny the next day that he had any intention of rebuking Burke.

"The secretary can be disappointed, and he can regret parts of an officer's testimony without it being anything more than that," he said.

From far out in the Pacific, Vice Adm. Austin K. Doyle, commander at Formosa, backed up Burke, said he thought he was sticking his neck out for saying so, and announced he was shocked at McElroy's criticism of Burke.

Russell Raps McElroy

Then McElroy got hit by Sen. Richard B. Russell, Georgia Democrat, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, and one of the most powerful men in Congress. He said a couple of things:

1. That McElroy's criticism of Burke for telling Congress what he thought was proof Congress must preserve the right to receive the unbiased professional judgment of this country's military leaders.

2. That "the clear implication in the secretary's statement that the Joint Chiefs must conform or be purged is more in keeping with the totalitarian concept of government than with our free government of divided powers."

That wasn't all. Russell called off any more testimony by military men on Eisenhower's reorganization plan until he gets assurance from McElroy they won't be punished for saying what they think.

President Has Bill On Toll Collections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Before President Eisenhower for action is a resolution that would authorize the Lake Champlain Bridge Commission to continue collecting tolls on the Crown Point and Rouses Point bridges.

The House-approved measure was passed by the Senate Monday.

The legislation would authorize the New York-Vermont commission to continue the tolls until another method is set up for operation, maintenance and control of the bridges.

Part of the revenue is designed to pay for studies of a proposed third span across Lake Champlain near Plattsburgh, N. Y.

A new "electronic age" was born...when Bell telephone scientists invented the transistor

Ten years ago this month, Bell Telephone Laboratories announced the invention of the transistor. Tiny, simple, rugged, able to do the work of many vacuum tubes at a fraction of the power, the transistor has brought improvements in telephone services that were impractical a brief decade ago.

Today the transistor plays a key role in Direct Distance Dialing, the service that allows your calls to be dialed direct clear across the country.

It is used in the volume-control telephones so helpful to the hard-of-hearing.

It is the secret of pocket-size radios and tiny "invisible" hearing aids.

It made possible the compact transmitters in America's space satellites that send back to earth important data sought by scientists.

The list of transistor applications goes on and on, growing every day. And in the years ahead your telephone will become ever more useful and dependable because of this "mighty midjet."

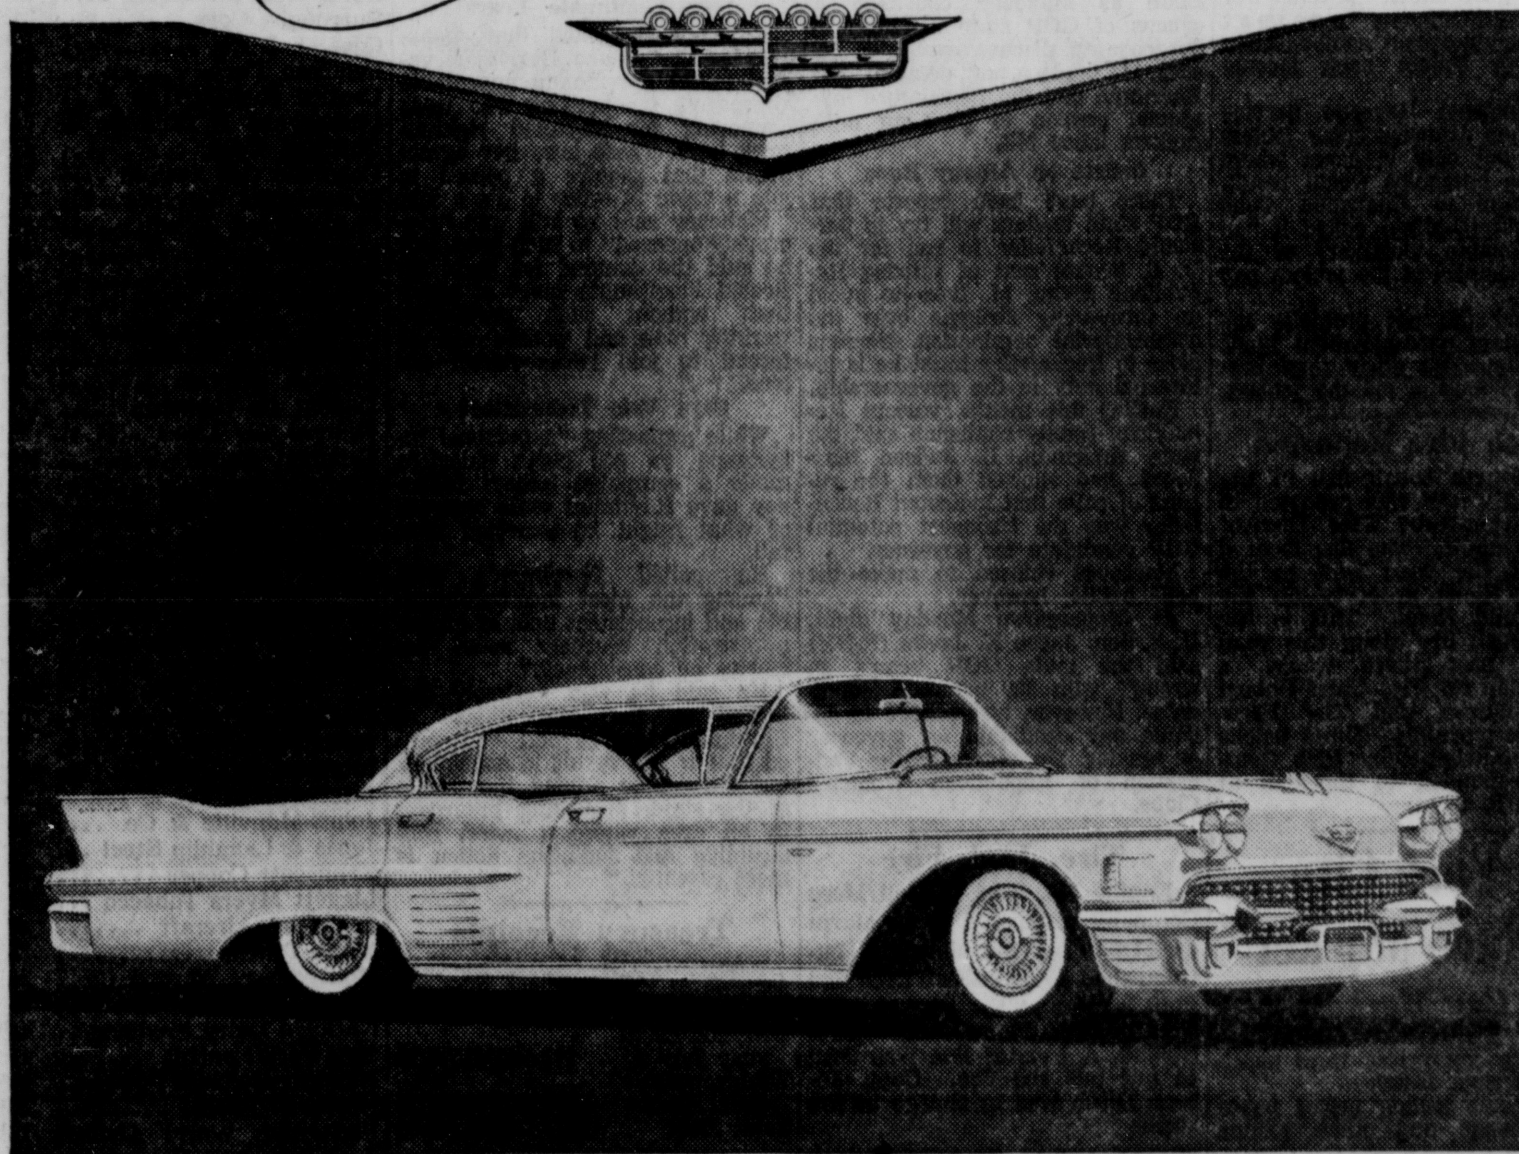

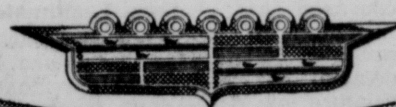

Research which led to the transistor began long before the announcement of its invention. Its earliest beginnings date back to the late 1930's, and intensive development work got under way after World War II.

Projects like the transistor can be carried out only by a company which is financially able to plan ahead and spend ahead. Only through research like this can telephone users be assured of steadily improving service at low cost.

Over Criticism

Knowland Says No Threat Was Aimed at Burke

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders said today President Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense McElroy never intended any threat of reprisal against Adm. Arleigh Burke for criticizing the administration's defense reorganization program.

Their views were reported to newsmen by Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California and House GOP Chief Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts. They held a news conference after their regular weekly meeting with the President.

McElroy attended the conference. Over the weekend, the secretary of defense had termed it regrettable that Burke, the chief of naval operations, had refused to support some features of the reorganization plan in testimony before a congressional committee.

McElroy's remarks were seized by reporters as a rebuke to Burke, but the defense secretary later insisted that he had intended no rebuke.

The episode caused Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee to call on the administration for assurances there would be no reprisals against top military men who disagree with the administration's position. Russell suspended scheduled testimony by military leaders pending receipt of such assurances.

Girls State Heads To Tour City Hall

Four representatives of Empire Girls State currently in session this week at New Paltz State Teachers College, will be the guests of Mayor Edwin F. Radel this afternoon during a tour of City Hall.

They will include the newly elected mayor and alderman-at-large named at last night's session and the two defeated candidates.

Carol Eckhardt of Hamburg, N. Y., was elected mayor on the Nationalist ticket, and Angelina Pasculli of Staten Island, New York City, was named alderman-at-large on the Federalist slate.

Jean Schweizer of Holland, N. Y., was the Federalist candidate for mayor, and Laurel Frank of Lynbrook, L. I., was the Nationalist candidate for alderman-at-large.

The tour of City Hall, Common Council chambers and all other offices at City Hall will be conducted from 2:30 to 4:30.

Checks Attachments

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee takes a look today at the government practice of levying attachments against some unemployment compensation checks to collect back income taxes.

The Internal Revenue Service said it has attached some jobless benefits but only in cases where no undue hardships would result. Subcommittee Chairman John A. Blatnik (D-Minn.) called it "an unconscionable violation" of the basic principles of the jobless pay law.

He said the act prohibits the use of state unemployment funds for any purpose other than providing an income for the jobless.

Rockefeller Is Set May Traffic Deaths 187; 788 for Year

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Twenty-seven highway deaths over the Memorial Day weekend pushed the traffic toll in New York State for the month of May to its highest point since 1953.

The State Motor Vehicle Bureau reported today that the May deaths totaled 187, compared with 167 in May 1957. The toll in May 1953 was 190.

In the first five months of this year, there were 788 deaths, compared with 764 at the same stage last year.

U.S. Steel's loss of about a point was about the worst among the leading stocks in its group. Bethlehem Republic and Youngstown dropped fractions. Chrysler posted a small gain. General Motors and Ford lost a little ground.

Sees Legitimate Fears

Mahoney suggested that measures of the nature of the Harrison alternative for persons who were claiming for so-called right-to-work laws. These laws bar agreements that require a person to join a union in order to get a job.

Mahoney said he still was "vigorously opposed" to such laws. But he said the demand for them reflected "legitimate fears of many that, without such protection, working men and women will be forced to join racket-ridden unions."

Says Veto Inconsistent

While professing "a personal reluctance to see clean unionism made a campaign issue," Mahoney gave Harrison some samples of what might be expected next fall.

He called Harrison's veto "among the most incomprehensible and inconsistent acts of an administration scarcely noted for clarity or consistency."

He said he was "gravely disturbed by the implications" of Harrison's action and "concerned that it will result in accentuated differences among the people of the state, provoking bitterness in an area where, wise, constructive and judicious action is most essential."

Tire, Junk Fire

Engine No. 2 of Cornell Hose Company responded to an alarm at 11:23 this morning and extinguished some rubber tires and junk on fire at the City Sewage Treatment Plant, 85 East Strand. A booster line was used to put out the fire. Capt. Joseph Disch was in charge at the scene.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued its moderate decline early this afternoon. Leading issues were down fractions to about a point.

Selected issues advanced a point or so. Among them was American Motors which halted its decline and moved ahead, adding about a point. The stock had declined on word from financier Louis E. Wolfson to the effect he was liquidating his 400,000 shares. The stock rebounded following an announcement from an SEC official that a federal judge has signed an order restraining Wolfson from alleged further violations of the anti-fraud and manipulation provision of the securities exchange act of 1934.

The SEC official said Wolfson and associates were short more than 100,000 shares of the stock when a news item was published saying Wolfson was disposing of his shares. This would depress the market for the stock, the SEC official said.

Steels, rails, oils, rubbers and most chemicals were off but there was little apparent selling pressure.

American Motors was the most active stock Monday when it lost ½.

Lorillard resumed upward, adding about a point. American Tobacco gained a major fraction. Vanadium Corp. slashed its dividend to 25 cents from 50 cents and the stock dropped about 2 points.

U.S. Steel's loss of about a point was about the worst among the leading stocks in its group. Bethlehem Republic and Youngstown dropped fractions. Chrysler posted a small gain. General Motors and Ford lost a little ground.

Southern Railway fell a point or so and Santa Fe was down. International Nickel and American Smelting were down about a point. Du Pont and Caterpillar were other 1-point losers.

U.S. government bonds were firm in slow transactions.

11 Jurors Chosen

ently mentioned in the "road oil kickback" allegations.

Haver moved under Section 230 of the Code of Criminal Procedure for such an examination. Special prosecutor Bernard Tompkins objected and Judge Greenberg sustained the objection.

Prior to being called to the stand for examination as to their qualifications by Special Prosecutor Tompkins each member of the panel was handed a list of persons and firms. On the list were public officials, former public officials, individuals whose names have been mentioned in the probe, and also firms which have been prominent in the Reuter probe during the past several months.

Cites Public's Right

Each juror was asked to check the list for any person, firm or official with whom they were acquainted. Their responses to the questions on the list were sworn to.

Later as they were called to the stand for questioning as to qualifications they were asked specifically as to the persons or firms which had been checked.

Special Prosecutor Tompkins indicated that there would be no undercover investigation. He said "we have been accused of conducting this investigation in a gold-fish bowl and that is just what we intend to do. The public has a right to know what is going on."

Each prospective grand juror after being handed the list was asked to check any person or firm on the list with whom the juror was related, had business dealings or was acquainted socially or otherwise.

No Implication Implied

The list also stated "the inclusion of any name on the following list does not, of itself, mean or imply any wrong doing or criticism of that person. Those listed are persons who may be involved or connected with some aspect of the investigation or proceedings before the Grand Jury."

Prospective jurors were also asked if they or any member of their immediate family had any business dealings with Ulster County, or any of its subdivisions; whether they or any member of their family is an active member of any political club or organization; whether they knew of any reason why they could not serve as a grand juror, impartial and without prejudice to the rights of the people of the State, or any person under investigation.

134 Are on List

On the list, which contains 134 persons or companies, including supervisors, former supervisors, town superintendents and other public officials, were the following names:

Anderson, Howard, former supervisor, Town of Rochester.

Anella, Peter, New Paltz, sup't. of highways, Town of Lloyd.

Armstrong, George F., Arkville, former supervisor, Town of Hardenburgh.

Atlantic Hudson & Steel Co., 306 Griggs Avenue, Teaneck, N. J.

Baker, Marion, Arkville, sup't. of highways, Town of Hardenburgh.

Banyo, Alexander J., Albany Avenue Extension, Kingston, supervisor, Town of Ulster.

Bareika, Harry, 279 Lucas Avenue, Kingston, salesman for Walter Truck Co.

Barringer, Burton, Kerhonkson, former sup't. of highways, Town of Rochester.

Barringer, Vincent, Samsonville, truck driver for Town of Olive.

Batenfeld, Henry C., Hurley, sup't. of highways, Town of Hurley.

Bell, Claude, West Shokan, sheriff, Ulster County, former supervisor, Town of Olive.

Benevento, Rocco, Marlboro, superintendent of highways, Town of Marlboro.

Bertrand, W. Morton, Pine Hill, supervisor, Town of Shandaken.

Becherding, Richard, former supervisor, Town of Gardiner.

Boyd, Austin, 104 Fair Street, Kingston, official of Landsell Corporation.

Brown, William, R.F.D. Saugerties, superintendent of highways, Town of Saugerties.

Bush, Percy, former supervisor, Town of Ulster.

Buckman, Harry W., Shandaken, office employe of Ulster Bituminous Corporation.

Candall, Albert, Woodstock, superintendent of highways, Town of Woodstock.

Chase, Edwin C., Napanoch, supervisor, Town of Wawarsing.

Cole, Harold A., Claryville, supervisor, Town of Denning.

Colyer, Harry, Highland, councilman, Town of Lloyd.

Conklin, Benjamin, Claryville, superintendent of highways, Town of Denning.

'Education Bomb' Is Needed by Nation

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (AP)—The United States needs an E-bomb, E standing for education, the president of the University of Akron, Ohio, says.

Dr. Norman P. Auburn said Monday night that the E-bomb would be an invincible secret weapon to protect democracy and mankind. He spoke at the 43rd annual conference of the American Alumni Council.

"Quality education for free man in a free society is the principal hope for the future," Dr. Auburn declared.

About 1,000 delegates from 400 of the council's 925 member universities and colleges are attending the five-day meeting.

Two Brothers Drown As Sister Watches

KEESEVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—Michael Baker, 7, was drowned in the surging Ausable River Monday and his brother Richard, 11, died trying to save him.

Their sister Virginia, 9, saw them perish.

State police said the boys, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker, were fishing from a moss-covered boulder when Michael fell in. Richard plunged in and vanished. Keesville firemen recovered the bodies in five feet of water.

Will Promote Kelly On Retirement Date

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Brig. Gen. William H. Kelly will be made a major general when he retires July 15 from the New York National Guard.

Gov. Harriman's office said Monday that Kelly, who lives in suburban Menands, would be promoted at retirement. Kelly, who serves as vice chief of staff to the governor, will be 61 on July 21.

Favors Less PSC Rules

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph J. Myler, a director of the Rochester Transit Corp., says help from city administrations and state Legislatures and less regulation from Public Service Commissions are necessary if public transportation systems are to be preserved.

"To preserve the downtown stores, we must preserve our public transportation systems," Myler said Monday.

He spoke at a one-day transit clinic sponsored by the downtown development committee of the National Retail Merchants Assn. About 50 merchant and public transit executives from eastern cities attended.

"Public transportation at reasonable rates," Myler said, "would be the greatest possible aid to retailers in their present plight."

Conscience Mail

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Ethyl Rucker Ferguson, an employee of the Colorado state treasurer's office 21 years, left a set of diamond rings she valued at $1,000 in a rest room at the state capitol. That was 15 years ago. She got the rings back recently. They arrived in an air mail envelope on which the postmark was blurred and not readable. With the rings was a note which read: "May God Forgive."

About 200,000 years ago, the Neanderthal man lived in Europe and Africa. Remains of the Neanderthal man were first found in a cave near Dusseldorf, Germany, in 1856. Since then remains of several hundred similar men have been found in many different places. As a result, much has been learned about how early man looked and lived.

Businessman Has Retirement Career 'In the Cabinet'

BY MARIE DAERR

At 54, L. A. doesn't intend to retire from his management consultant business for at least another 10 years.

But he's already in a hobby that may mean a second career for him.

At least, it will guarantee him excitement, instead of a rocking-chair routine, when he has dictated his last letter, kept his last office appointment.

"Four years ago, I decided fine cabinetmaking offered a real challenge as a hobby, now and later," L. A. says. "It's creative. And it's worlds removed from my job."

"I bought tools and books but I couldn't seem to get anywhere. Finally I located a class in the subject in New York City, where I must spend about three-fourths of my business time."

"The teachers were three German-born craftsmen who really knew cabinetmaking."

"Luckily for me, I travel to far places on business. Wherever I go, I pick up pieces of rare wood."

The woods, acquired also by trade and purchase from collectors, go into the basement of L. A.'s home in a western city. Also in the basement are power and hand tools, a veneer press and other equipment.

There L. A. turns out bowls, trays, beautifully inlaid plates and even small pieces of furniture.

"The best present anyone can give me is a fine piece of wood," L. A. says. "I have beewood from British Guiana, olivewood from Palestine, amaranth from Africa, pink ivory from a tree the Zulus consider sacred."

L. A. admits his hobby costs money, but he maintains it also can be enjoyed inexpensively.

"You can spend as much time and as many dollars on this as you choose," L. A. says. "I consider it about the best investment in the future I can make."

Q—What do you do about an older person who insists on doing more than her share of housework? My mother, who is 80, insists on tackling jobs that I am certain are too much for her. I get really scared at what could happen if she continues to overdo.

—Mrs. J.W. A doctor who has a reputation for his success with older patients tells me that most oldsters know pretty well how much they can "take." It isn't wise to urge them to do something, or go out, when they're not feeling up to it. But, more important, don't discourage them when they're full of pep and want to be up and doing. A squelch can do more harm than sweeping the floor or weeding the flower bed.

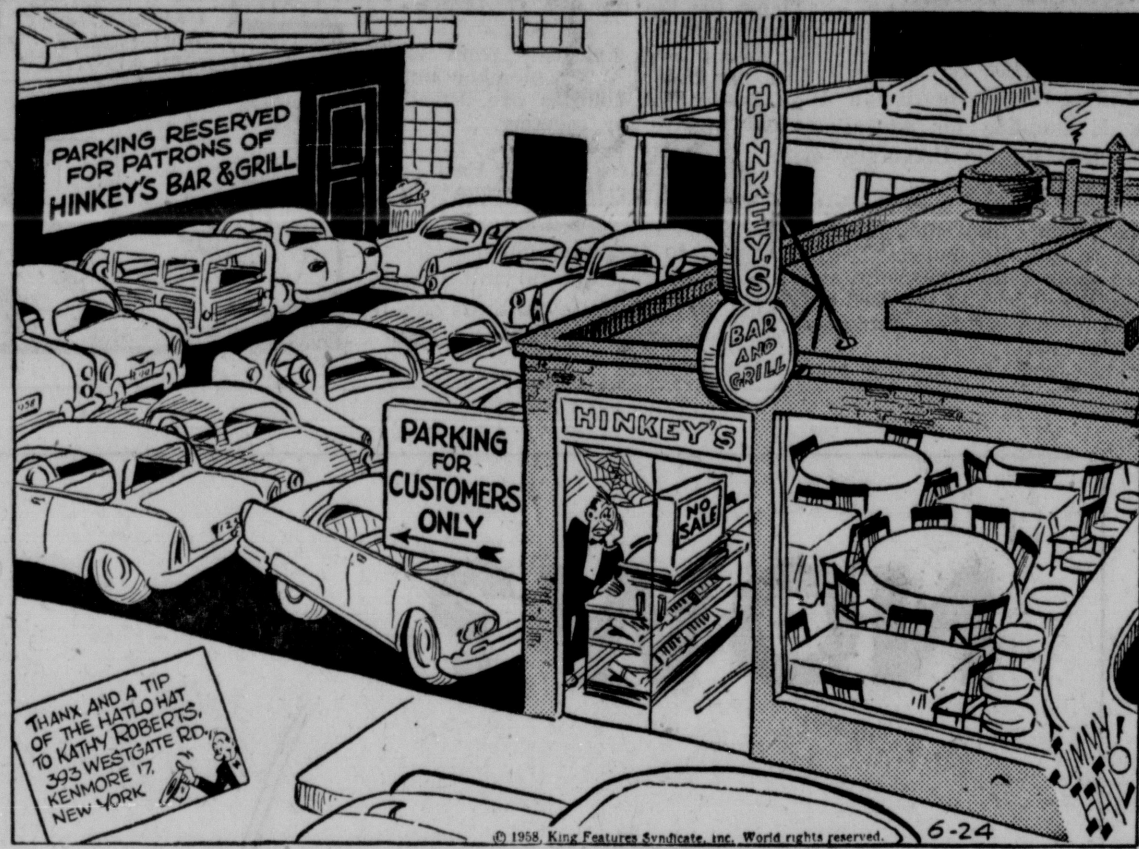

Q—Can a retired railroad worker receive both railroad retirement benefits and Social Security?—M.D.

A—Yes, if he has at least 10 years of railroad service and also has done enough work under Social Security to qualify for payments.

Boys State Goes In for Politics At Hamilton Today

HAMILTON, N. Y. (AP)—Leaders of the Nationalist and Federalist parties, none over 17, tackle heavy politics today at the 20th annual Boys State.

The 1,000 delegates elected mayors of 30 mythical cities Monday as they warmed up to their week-long school in practical politics.

The American Legion sponsors Boys State.

Later the two parties named convention delegates, who will write the party platforms.

The election scheduled for Wednesday will decide races for governor, lieutenant governor and other statewide offices.

Threat Is Made On 3 Opposing Merger With Quill

NEW YORK (AP)—A threat of violence was made Monday night in a telegram to three officials of the United Transit Employees Council, a group of 10 splinter transit unions.

The three have been leading a fight against a possible merger with Michael J. Quill's Transport Workers Union.

One of them, Frank A. Zelano, president of the council and executive secretary of the Motormen's Benevolent Assn., was injured last April in an automobile accident that he claimed was an attempt on his life.

The telegram, sent to the council's headquarters, read:

"Frank got his share on April 6. You'll get yours the next few days. The extra shares will be divided between Zelano, Neil and Gomez."

The wire was signed "Mike Hammer," a fictional private detective.

The two officials named with Zelano are Michael Neil, council vice president, and Julio Gomez, the council's director of organization. Neil called police.

Detectives said they traced the telegram to a coin telephone.

Zelano received a telephone call from his home, Neil said, and was told of a telegram that he had been sent.

Neil quoted it as saying: "You didn't get enough April 6. More coming your way."

At a stormy meeting of the council's rank and file last Saturday, Zelano announced he personally would boycott future peace talks with the TWU.

Neil, who is also president of the Conductors' Benevolent Assn., and Gomez, president of the Towermen's Benevolent Assn., were equally outspoken in their opposition to the negotiations.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—They've moved the coeds in with the men on the University of Kansas City campus, but it's strictly above board.

Women students occupy the fourth floor of the men's dormitory, the men the lower three floors. Previously, out-of-town coeds lived in approved homes around the city.

The men are separated from the women by special dormitory door locks which, when tampered with, trip an alarm system. It hasn't sounded yet.

Dies in Collision

STITTVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—A dump truck and a tractor-trailer collided near this Oneida County village Monday, killing 37-year-old Peter Hook of Stittville.

State Police said Hook's dump truck knocked down some guard rails along Route 365 and veered into the tractor-trailer.

The other driver, Frederick Markert of Fort Plain, was treated at Rome hospital for minor injuries.

The Men in Gray Who Patrol New York:

State Troopers Must Be Strong Men
Willing to Make Sacrifices on JobBy JACK CRAWFORD
Freeman Staff Writer

To be a trooper you've got to be a pretty good hunk of man.

And by "hunk" we don't mean bulk alone by any means. It's a job requiring fine intelligence, good judgment, moral character.

It's a job in which a man wears a mighty handsome uniform—but he lives in a barracks, whether married or not, and he works hard. When other folks are out on picnics with their families, or having a fine holiday—for instance, the Fourth of July—the trooper is having one of his hardest work days. Traffic is heavy. Accidents increase.

He must be ready at all times—ready on call, ready for any emergency. His life, and the lives of citizens he is appointed to protect, may depend on that readiness and good judgment. He can't make a mistake. He sometimes surrenders his life in the performance of duty.

Six Troops in State

There are six troops in the New York State Police organization as follows: A—Batavia; B—Malone; C—Sidney; D—Oneida; G—Troy, and K—Hawthorne. Division headquarters is located at Albany. Sub-stations are scattered throughout the state.

There are four barracks in Ulster County: Kingston (Lake Katrine), Highland, Ellenville and Phoenicia.

In command of the Kingston station is a trooper careersman—Sgt. Raymond L. Keating. Sgt. Keating, a soft-spoken native of Babylon, L. I., now resides in Kingston.

Organized in 1917

Sgt. Keating points out that the New York State Police was organized in 1917 to provide police protection in the rural districts—a semi-military organization empowered to cooperate with other departments of the state, the federal government and with local authorities which since its beginning has steadily built a reputation for efficient law enforcement.

Another characteristic of the life of a trooper is its generally limited tenure in any one station. Here today—gone tomorrow to another assignment.

Like Their Work

Sgt. Keating's present staff consists of Cpl. Edward Shannon, Bureau of Criminal Investigation, a native of Long Island; Trooper Richard Ryan, Yonkers, a former Thruway officer; Trooper Joseph Ventriglia, Piermont, Westchester County; Trooper David Wachtel, Kingston; Trooper A. W. Scrima, Manhattan; Trooper George Gaine, Long Island; Trooper Raymond Miller, Greene County, and Trooper T. J. Crowley.

They like their work, despite long hours, the possibility that they may, without notice, be called from vacations, "passes," etc.

Subject to Recalls

All men sleep in the barracks with four days off a month—but subject to call at any time. There are four cars at the local barracks—three patrol and one unmarked (used by BCI man). A patrol system is in operation 24 hours a day, answering all calls.

Sgt. Keating explains that when a man is accepted into the state police he receives a six-week training course at Troy. He is then placed on probation for six months.

When a new man is assigned to a barracks he works with a senior man until he has become well seasoned in police procedure.

The basic requirements for candidates are set forth by the law governing the state police.

Must Pass Exams

Candidates' names are placed on an eligible list after they qualify in an open competitive examination consisting of a written examination, physical examination, oral interview and investigation of moral character.

Initial appointments are for a probationary period of six months. The general aptitude of the appointee is carefully observed by the troop commander and older members of the division during the probationary period. After preliminary training at barracks, if found qualified the candidate is sent to the New York State School for Police for more advanced training.

Members of the division work not only in uniform but they may be assigned to the Bureau of Criminal Investigation (BCI) and perform their duties in plain clothes. The work of the division is aided by a modern scientific police laboratory and a complete three-way F.M. radio system which supplements a teletype network connected with 12 other states. The best in equipment and procedures are available to members of the division.

Must Be Strong

To become a trooper the young man must be over 21 but not more than 29. He must be a resident of the United States.

He must have a high school education or possess a high school equivalency diploma.

He must be physically strong, active and well proportioned, free from all physical defects, with a minimum height of five CHECKING TELETYPE MESSAGES—Trooper Joseph Ellsworth of the Kingston state police checks messages as they are received on the teletype machine, standard trooper equipment. Stolen cars, missing persons, escaped prisoners, etc., are reported by this wire service.

TROOPER CALLS STATION—Trooper David Wachtel of the Kingston barracks, on patrol, calls the Kingston station to report. Troopers are cruising their territory 24 hours a day.

FROM THE BARRACKS—Sgt. Raymond L. Keating who commands the Kingston station converses with Trooper Wachtel by short wave radio telephone.

Good Character Demanded—He must be of good moral character and habits, pass written examination covering matters of general knowledge and other subjects designed to test the general intelligence of applicant.

KINGSTON BARRACKS—A view of the local barracks located on Route 9W about four miles out of Kingston. The structure is simply but comfortably furnished. Here the six-man

To Open Bids on Work
At Napanoch Facility

Bids on construction work to improve fire protection at the Eastern Correctional Institution at Napanoch will be opened Thursday at 2 p. m. at the State Office Building, Albany.

John W. Johnson, superintendent of public works announced that bid proposals on 11 projects for construction, repairs and alterations to various state-owned facilities will be opened.

The work at Napanoch is designed to improve fire protection at the staff resident buildings No. 20 and 23.

Aver Vocational Rehabilitation
Gainful to State

ALBANY — Vocational rehabilitation is a profitable program in New York State both from the viewpoint of recovery of productive workers and in tax return. Dr. James E. Allen Jr., state commissioner of education, said today.

An intensive study of case records for persons enrolled in the 1956-57 vocational rehabilitation program of training and leading handicapped citizens of the state into worthwhile employment shows that for the 4,485 rehabilitants the total wages earned rose 466 percent following benefits of rehabilitation service. Total dollar earnings jumped from $1,996,488 per year to $11,300,120.

The total cost of the rehabilitation service provided these citizens is reported as $1,385,201. The State Education Department survey showed these 4,485 rehabilitated men and women would return $75,791 in state income taxes to New York in the first year of work and a total of $1,937,261 during their estimated working lifetime. They would also pay $1,331,829 in federal income taxes the first year and a total of $3,961,640 during their working lifetime.

Oneonta Summer Class
Has Over 800 Enrolled

Over 800 students have enrolled for the Oneonta State University Teachers College summer session, it has been reported by Dr. James A. Frost, dean of the Oneonta State University unit. Dean Frost said that 805 persons have pre-registered for the 1958 summer program at this date, and that the final enrollment figure will probably exceed 900 when classes begin on June 30. He added that the enrollment figure for last year's summer session was 854.

Rosendale
Vols Food Sale

ROSENDALE — A food sale, sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Rosendale Volunteer Fire Company, will take place at the firehall on Main Street Saturday, starting at 10 a. m. Donations for the sale are being solicited by the committee. A white and gold stole will be awarded during the day. The public is invited to attend.

Orange County
Fair Aug. 2-10
At Middletown

An additional $1,000 in premiums will be available this year for exhibitors at the 118th annual Orange County Fair, to be held at Middletown, Aug. 2 to 10.

Fred Germain Jr., general manager, said premium books listing the $12,000 awards in 13 categories, had been mailed to all persons exhibiting in the past three years.

Booklet Available

The 136-page booklet is available to anyone else interested, Germain said, either at the county fair office on Wisner Avenue or at farm machinery dealers throughout the county.

The familiar pocket-size book has a new look this year. Its cover carries red panels, top and bottom. In between is a photograph of the animal cavalcade at last year's fair, showing four 4-H Club boys and girls and their Holstein calves.

The 4-H exhibitors are Richard Klotch, Westtown; Barbara Haycock, Cuddebackville; Kenneth Kolk, Goshen, and Lois De Block, Ridgebury.

Another feature this year is a map of the fairgrounds in the center spread, showing streets and their names, and outlining all the buildings. Parking areas also are clearly shown, of which there will be additional provision this year. Accompanying the map is a directory, keyed to the drawing for greater convenience.

Carries Program

The opening pages of the book carry the full program for the nine-day fair, which begins on a Saturday and offers a variety of entertainment through the Sunday of the following week.

As usual, children's days will be held on Monday and Friday during the fair, when thousands of youngsters enter free. Old Timers Day, too, is set for Friday, with badges, entertainment and a course dinner as guests of the Orange County Agriculture Society.

Mathematics Course
For Teachers Slated

A special program, designed to present the latest developments in the field of teaching mathematics, will be sponsored by the National Science Foundation at Oneonta State University Teachers College, it was announced by Dr. Vera Sanford, head of that college's mathematics department.

Miss Sanford said that the course, enrollment in which will be limited to 30 teachers or supervisors currently working in junior or senior high school mathematics within commuting distance of Oneonta, SUTC, will be held on Wednesday evenings throughout the 1958-1959 academic year.

The college mathematics head also reported that tuition and travel allowances will be provided to those selected for the program. She added that teachers desiring application forms should write to her at the Oneonta college. Appointments to the in-service institute, slated to begin this fall, will be announced by the middle of August.

The course, she concluded, will contain two major parts—an introduction to modern mathematics and teaching the newer concepts of mathematics.

Acquit Hoffa In Wiretap

NEW YORK (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa and two codefendants were acquitted Monday night of charges that they conspired to wiretap the union's Detroit headquarters.

A federal jury of eight men and four women deliberated seven hours before returning the verdict.

The defendants with Hoffa were Owen B. Brennan, president of Detroit Teamsters Local 337, and Bernard Spindel, a professional wiretapper.

Conviction could have brought a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

A previous trial ended in a hung jury.

The government contended the trio illegally conspired here to install wiretaps in the Detroit headquarters in 1953 so Hoffa could eavesdrop on union subordinates.

Hoffa allegedly wanted to know what the subordinates might tell to U.S. Senate investigators or a grand jury in Detroit during in-

Purse Totaling $3625 Is Presented to Rev. Todd

Two checks totaling $3625.00 were presented to the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, retiring pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church of Woodstock at a reception held in his honor in the church Thursday night in grateful recognition of his 34 years of service not only to his church but to the town in general.

The program originally scheduled for the church basement hall, had to be shifted upstairs to the main auditorium, when the crowds overflowed the smaller hall.

Prayer was led by the Rev. Frederick K. Shields, a college classmate of the Rev. Mr. Todd, and LeMonte V. Simpkins and Walter S. Van Wagenen, members of the parish spoke, relating the many services the Rev. Mr. Todd had performed for the parish and the township in his long years of service.

Committee of Women
Mrs. Iven Freer, one of four women members of the parish who inaugurated the town-wide drive for funds, presented the Rev. Mr. Todd with check for $3125.00, raised by public subscription among townspeople, fraternal organizations, patriotic groups, service and private clubs, in appreciation for his many selfless acts to benefit the township.

Earl Snyder presented the beloved dominie with a check for $500.00 from the church consistory.

The public drive was instigated by Mrs. Freer, Mrs. Karl Cousins, Mrs. Robert Gordon and Mrs. Fred Mower after they learned of the Rev. Mr. Todd's long expressed desire to tour Europe. They discovered he was planning to leave July 12 for the World Conference of Christian Endeavor in Frankfurt, Germany and decided that perhaps the entire town would like to contribute towards his trip. They sent out letters and the response was overwhelming. Funds are still coming in and the amount is expected to rise well above the $3125.00 included in the check.

Legendary Figure
The Rev. Mr. Todd's efforts in behalf of the town are legendary. He always was first to help the needy, no matter what the person's faith and his continued good works led him to be selected Woodstock's first "Citizen of the Year" in January 1956.

His cherished trip abroad will take him not only to the C. E. Conference in Germany, but to all principal cities in free Europe. And when he returns to this country he will go to Mellinville, N. Y., a suburb of Hudson, where he will be pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church in that little community.

The Rev. Mr. Todd climaxed his 34 years in Woodstock on Sunday, June 22 by holding a special service for couples he has married over that period of years. Of the 159 total, 17 couples renewed their vows before a battery of cameras which included photographers from national periodicals. The service also was heard over Radio Station WKNY.

He is being succeeded by Wayne C. Olsen, who arrived on Monday, June 23 from Holland, Michigan with his wife and baby. Mr. Olson, a recent graduate of the Western Theological Seminary will be ordained and installed at special services in the Dutch Reformed Church on Friday, June 27, at 8 p. m.

Ruth Emrich Real Spark for Fair

A lady who has worked untiringly for the Library Fair is Ruth Emrich, wife of Harvey Emrich, Woodstock painter. Mrs. Emrich has for years been in charge of the Jewelry Table at the fair, and it is largely through her efforts that this phase of the fair has become so unique throughout the years. Mrs. Emrich repairs jewelry and re-strings beads for sale on Fair Day. Some of the items arrive in perfect shape, while others need new springs, clasps, or stones. Pieces which are too poor for resale are kept for a jump ring or a needed rhinestone, to complete an almost perfect piece. There are hundreds of dollars' worth of chains, clasps, and the like, in Ruth Emrich's numerous tool boxes. All items which have to be bought are purchased wholesale, and all proceeds go to the Fair.

Years ago pieces were sold as received. Then Edith Temple began to repair them. Many helped at one time or another. From these humble beginnings the table grew until now a great deal of space is needed. Buttons have also been added, and New York tailors come to search for special ones. Even the proceeds from the beads which are re-stringed for people who wish to keep them go into the Fair coffers.

Some of the jewelry which is turned in are rare or quite valuable pieces. Others are merely decorative or may complete an ensemble. Once in a while no one knows what it's for! Such was the case a few years ago when a long item with quills and a scoop attached, marked "Hong Kong," was turned in. It was a puzzle until Mr. Emrich turned to the encyclopedia. There, under "Walrus," he read where the beast's whiskers are used for opium pipe cleaners. That's what it was: the quills were walrus whiskers for cleaning out the stem, the scoop for cleaning the pipe bowl. A gentleman bought it at the Fair for a pin for his wife's hair bun. It was pretty, decorative, and certainly a conversation piece.

Mrs. Emrich consults jewelers for correct prices on some especially nice pieces. Harry Alpern has been of great help, as have Scudders. For example, a string of smoky amber beads was turned in. The jeweler priced it at about $30. Mrs. Emrich went half way and sold it for $15. A very pleased lady called to tell her that her bargain beads had been appraised at between $32.50 and $37.50. So bargains are awaiting you at the Jewelry Table.

Ruth Emrich has devoted time and uncountable hours to Woodstock, and the Fair has good reason to pay her honor.

Sainer Explains Playhouse Role In Rotary Speech

The relationship between the Woodstock Playhouse and the community can often be the cause for concern to him, A. L. Sainer, owner of the Playhouse, said in a speech before the Woodstock Rotary Club last night.

Sainer, who came to Woodstock in 1952 to take over the Playhouse, was introduced by Maurice F. Hamilton, publisher of the Woodstock Press, who was program chairman for the night.

One great difficulty, Sainer said, was the high incidence of conflict between Playhouse activities and activities in the community. He pointed out that Tuesday night, which should be the best night of the week from a local standpoint, is generally the poorest. A cocktail party Sunday night which will serve as a general kickoff for the 1958 season is likely to run into several local conflicts, he continued.

Community Project
Sainer, a wealthy New York lawyer who also owns the parking concession at Roosevelt Raceway, said his operation of the Woodstock Playhouse was not motivated by monetary concern. His primary purpose, he said, was to make the Playhouse a community project, but he indicated frequent misgivings that the community accepted it in that light. His objective of making Tuesday nights a "Woodstock Night" had fallen short of his hopes, he said.

In an interesting question and answer period following his talk, Sainer gave some interesting information on the complex operation of a summer stock theatre. He revealed among other things: Salaries run from $75 to $125 a week, but Woodstock Playhouse policy has adhered to uniform salaries wherever possible during the past seven years. The Playhouse can play to a weekly capacity of 3,300 persons, but Sainer has abandoned the policy of season tickets, unless specifically requested by the patron.

Too many large headaches, he pointed out. The top money makers on Broadway invariably are the best money makers in summer stock. Serious dramas are easier to produce than comedy. It's harder to make people laugh. He expressed the opinion that "View From the Bridge" was the greatest play ever produced at Woodstock Playhouse. He also predicted that Tennessee Williams' "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," the 1958 opener, would attract the largest audiences of the season. It would not be the best acted play of the 1958 schedule, he believes. Woodstock Playhouse is now attracting Poughkeepsie patrons and has extended its drawing range as far north as Albany. Exhaustive records kept by the Playhouse reveals that the weather, contrary to general belief, is never a factor in attendance. The play's still the thing, Sainer concluded.

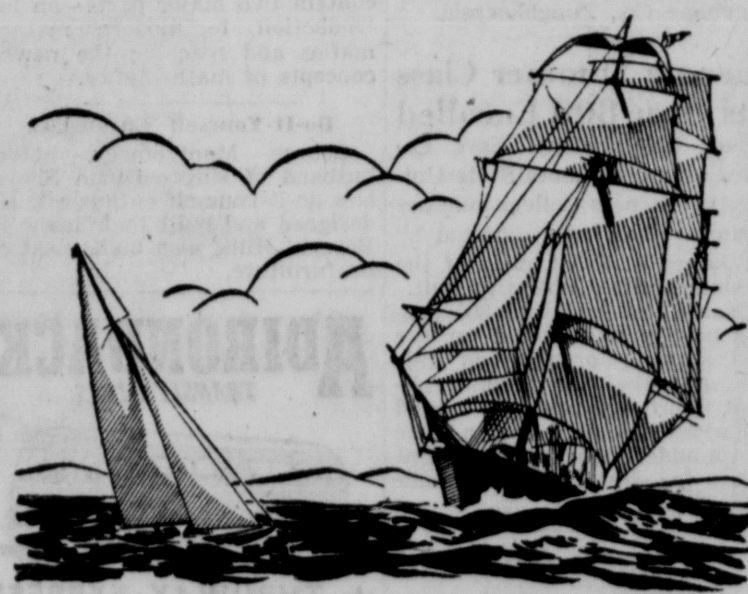

Christ Sermon Topic At Christ Scientist

The ever availability of the healing power of the Christ, Truth will be brought out at Christian Science service in Woodstock Sunday.

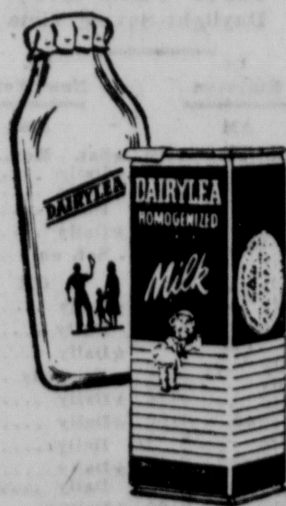

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on "Christian Science" is the Golden Text from Isaiah (40:5): "The glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

From "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (146:23-26: "Divine Science derives its sanction from the Bible, and the divine origin of Science is demonstrated through the holy influence of Truth in healing sickness and sin."

Scriptural selections will include the following from Habakkuk (2:14): "For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Speech Clinic

State University Teachers College of New Paltz is offering the services of its speech clinic to persons in the area who need help with oral communications problems, according to information released this week by Dr. Richard F. Kliks, director of the New Paltz Summer Session.

Under the direction of Dr. Perry E. Baisler, professor of speech, the clinic will be conducted from June 30 to August 8. Dr. Jack Patten, associate professor of education and psychologist for the Campus School, will serve as a psychological consultant.

The primary function of the clinic is diagnostic, and individuals will be seen by appointment. A thorough survey will be made of the nature of the difficulty and its causes. After the results of the examinations, procedures will be evaluated, recommendations concerning the handling of the problem will be made.

According to Dr. Baisler there will also be opportunity for a limited number of individuals to receive regular therapy during the six-weeks summer session, those who are likely to profit most from such a relatively short period of intensive work.

Anyone wishing to take advantage of the opportunities provided, Dr. Baisler said, may write to the Director of Summer Session, State University Teachers College, New Paltz. Applications, he stressed, will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. There is no charge for the service.

Summer Program

The State University Teachers College at New Paltz will again conduct a summer program on the campus at the Long Island Agricultural and Technical Institute, Farmingdale, from June 30 to August 8, according to Dr. Richard F. Kliks, director of the New Paltz Summer Session.

Included in the Farmingdale program will be courses for graduates and advanced undergraduates, and an intensive teacher training program. Registration is scheduled for Monday, June 30 from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., and classes will begin Tuesday, July 1.

Dr. George Bond, professor of education at New Paltz, will be in charge of the summer session activities at Farmingdale, and his office in the Industrial Building will be open after Monday, June 23, for persons who want additional information. He emphasized that courses would be for elementary teachers from kindergarten through grade six.

In connection with the college program, summer school opportunities for children of the Farmingdale area will be available from July 8 to August 2, Monday through Friday, from 9 to 11:45 a. m. Parents interested in this program may also obtain more information from Dr. Bond.

The intensive teacher training program was instituted in 1948 to alleviate the critical shortage of qualified elementary teachers, and recent graduates of accredited colleges may enroll in the program and become fully certified to teach in the elementary schools of the state. Additional information may be obtained from the Chairman, Division of Graduate Studies, State University Teachers College, New Paltz.

Talk With Lawyer Changes Prisoner Extradition View

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—An ex-convict migrant worker held in connection with a double murder and rape in Florida will refuse to waive extradition, his lawyer says.

Frank Peterson, 27, is charged with being a fugitive from justice. He was arrested Sunday on a farm near Springville and was ordered held for Florida police by a peace justice.

Peterson's lawyer, William Sims, said Monday that Peterson will not return to Florida without extradition proceedings. Before he talked with his lawyer, Peterson had told state police that he would waive extradition.

Sims, president of the Buffalo branch of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said he doubted that Peterson would receive a fair trial in Florida. He said Peterson has no knowledge of the crimes.

A Florida warrant charges Peterson with murder in the ax-killing of Ida Gene Carley, 26, and his daughter, Ernestine, 2, at their farm home at Boniday, Fla., on June 11. Carley's wife, 21, told police she was raped by the attacker.

Florida police said Peterson was released from a road camp prison the day before the murders and rape. They said he served a two-year sentence for burglary and had a record of 14 other convictions.

Ulster Taxpayers To Meet Thursday

Taxpayers and Voters Association of the Town of Ulster Inc. will meet Thursday 8 p. m. at Spring Lake Pavilion, off Lucas Avenue Extension to hear a discussion of "Modern Methods of Assessing." Guest speaker will be James Simpson of Phoenixia, tax consultant.

Town of Ulster Supervisor Alexander J. Banyo will also speak on the role of a taxpayers association in the community. A question and answer period will follow the main address.

A former member of the New York State Board of Equalization, Simpson also served as supervisor of the Town of Shandaken and clerk of Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

President Carmine Sabino will preside at the association meeting. Special guests will be Town Assessors Le Roy Crosby, Frank Phinney and Roger Boice.

The meeting is open to the public.

Find $400 in Sewer

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Leon Parker, 29, withdrew four $100 bills from a bank Monday so her husband, a butcher, could make a down payment on a car.

She put the bills and her bankbook in a kitchen cabinet. When she went to get the money it was missing.

Mrs. Parker called police and they helped her in a fruitless search of the apartment.

While she was putting her three children to bed Monday night, 3-year-old Iris mentioned a game that she and a 2-year-old boy played in the afternoon—throwing things down the sewer. Iris had found the $400 and the bankbook and figured they would be nice things for the sewer.

Police were called again. An emergency squad with floodlights recovered the $400 but not the bankbook.

Three Local Men To Attend Parley Of Accountants

L. Hamilton Krissler, president of the Mid-Hudson Chapter of National Association of Accountants has announced that he has received notice three additional chapter members expect to attend the 39th International Accounting Conference to be held June 22-25 at the Conrad Hilton, Chicago. They are Ronald P. McKeefrey, project manager of accounting, Michael J. Cervini Jr., manager of general accounting, and Edward J. Miller, manager Engineering Cost Control, all of IBM, Kingston.

Twenty-four top corporate executives and ranking accounting and business experts have been scheduled to appear as speakers, discussion leaders and session chairmen.

A record attendance is expected from the National Associations' 137 Chapters located throughout the United States and from over sixty foreign countries.

Included in the program will be six group meetings covering, operations research and the accountant using statistical controls as an Accounting and Management Tool—Using return on Capital Employed for Profit Appraisal—Learning Curve Techniques for Direct Labor Management—New Techniques for Judging Proposed Capital Expenditures—Capacity Utilization Studies for Cost Control and Reduction.

William Machaver, vice president of the U. S. Reduction Co., East Chicago, Ind., will open the program with a discussion of how the accountant's managerial abilities can be developed so he can assume his proper place in the management councils of his company.

In addition to the program of technical sessions, NAA will hold its annual meeting and election of officers and directors for 1958-59. Hamilton E. McHarg, budget manager of Daystrom-Weston Co., retiring president of Mid Hudson Chapter season 1957-58 has been nominated as a national director.

The Mature Parent

'Love Me for Myself' Is Parents' Unrealistic Wish

The motorcycle could be had for $60. Bud had $20 in his savings account. Never in his life would he forget it if his father advanced the remaining $40.

Said Bud earnestly to his father, "Doug's only selling it because he's bought some guy's old heap. Gosh, Dad, it's the ideal of my life!"

His father gave him the $40. And was thanked with sincerity and exuberance.

But his pleasure in Bud's satisfaction didn't last. No sooner had his excited son left for Doug's house than he began to attack his own kindness.

He thought, "I'm a fool. I'm spoiling the kid. At 17 I had to work for what I wanted by clerking in Pop's store. Otherwise I didn't get it. Why did I trust Bud's judgment on this motorcycle? How do I know he won't smash himself up with it?"

But fear for Bud's safety was not his real reason for resenting the favor he had done him.

His real reason was his suspicion that his children love him, not for himself, but for the things he gives them. So when ever he is moved by a generous impulse to do them some special favor, he immediately starts to begrudge their joy in it.

This "love-me-for-myself-alone" wish is not unusual. It is, however, pretty unrealistic.

Only little children and very romantic ladies can expect to be loved for "themselves alone." The rest of us have to provide satisfactions to others if we want them to love us.

If we want Bud to love us,

This House Is for the Birds — The Rent Is Cheap

When you hang a birdhouse in the yard you're really settled—or so I've always felt.

And so the day after we moved into a new home a little more than a year ago I hung a wren house in a small live oak outside the window above the desk where I do my writing chores.

Last spring a house-hunting pair of wrens turned up their noses at it and went off to nest in some more choice spot—perhaps an open mailbox or a clothespin basket in some shady back yard.

But today a pair of wrens is moving into the little house. Made of woven hickory splints, it has weathered to the exact color of the bark of the live oak.

All day long they have been working—carrying in small twigs, the fluffy tassels that drip from the live oaks in spring, flying in and out totting one twig or tassel at a time.

The fact that the North Carolina craftsman who wove their little house by hand forgot to add a perch hasn't fazed them one bit.

They manage to get into their perchless, perchless home by lighting on top of the sloping roof and sliding down, giving a quick turn at the bottom of the roof and diving into the opening.

Perhaps they are telling each other that they like the slide better than a regular perch. Or maybe they are saying that it isn't quite as convenient an arrangement as they'd like but there's a birdbath handy and, after all, you can't have everything when you're renting for a song.

And it's those songs they'll sing early in the summer mornings I am waiting to hear.

Large Milk Producer

An Ayrshire cow, owned by Frank Lindley of Snow Camp, S. C., has produced 102,403 pounds of milk in ten years, says the National Ayrshire Breeders' Assn. This would supply a family with four quarts of milk per day for 33 years.

CURTIS NORTH

JACK FARBER

Receiving diplomas tonight at commencement exercises for Kingston High School Class of 1958, will be Curtis North and Jack Farber.

Curtis North, who pursued a shop course while a student, resides at 62 Cedar Street. Jack Farber of 107 Wurts Street, studied a business course. He was a member of the Business Club 1, 2; Band 1, 2; National Guard 3, 4; Projection Crew, 1, 2, 3, 4; Radio Club 4; Bowling and Track Teams 1.

In an announcement received from the high school, it was noted that the pictures of both boys had inadvertently been omitted from the school year-book.

Mr. North and Mr. Farber will receive diplomas tonight at 8:15 p. m. in the municipal auditorium. There are 373 graduates.

'Matchmaker' Opens Phoenicia Season

"The Matchmaker," starring Clinton Anderson and Marguerite Lenert, will open the second season of the Phoenicia Playhouse July 1 through 6.

A pre-season open house will be held Saturday, June 28, from 8 to 10 p. m. "The purpose of the open house is to offer the public an opportunity to inspect our building and facilities," said Paul Kielar, who returns for a second year as producer. "We have made numerous improvements, and look forward to a season even more successful than last year's."

Also returning to the Playhouse staff is Adrian Hall, who directed all the plays last year, as well as starring in "Inherit the Wind."

"The Matchmaker" ran for a year at the Royale Theater on Broadway with Ruth Gordon in the leading role. Written by Thornton Wilder, the play is a comedy relating the problems of an aging widower who decides to remarry. He employs a professional matchmaker, who proceeds to eliminate all potential mates except herself.

The Ruth Gordon role will be played by Marguerite Lenert, who starred at the Playhouse last year in "Years Ago" and "Dark of the Moon."

The widower will be played by Clinton Anderson, who was most recently seen in the movie "The Quiet American" and the road company of "No Time for Sergeants."

Single admissions and season tickets are available at the Playhouse box office from 10 to 5 daily. The Playhouse is located on Route 214, one and a half miles from downtown Phoenicia.

Special Stage Lighting Installed for Opening Of Ellenville Music Theatre Series July 1

The stage lighting effects of the Ellenville Music Theatre not only will equal those of any Broadway theatre but the engineering genius of Channel Master Corporation was brought into play to make possible the manual operation of the lights.

Channel Master Corporation at Ellenville is the world's leading manufacturer of television antennas and along with it has one of the largest aluminum extrusion mills in the world.

When Frank Forest, managing director of the Empire State Music Festival which sponsors the Ellenville Music Theatre, decided he would stand for nothing but the best in stage lighting for the six musical productions which start in the huge 2500 seat tent Tuesday evening, July 1, he went to Louis Resnick and asked the help of the Channel Master Corporation executive and immediately the antenna company engineers went to work at the drawing board.

Never before has such a catwalk been made of structural aluminum. It will be eighteen inches wide between the two main poles of the tent and will support weight of more than 1000 pounds. The "follow spot" operator will ascend to his perch high in the tent by a rope ladder which he will pull up behind him once he is ready to begin his night's work.

The principals, chorus, dancers for the "Most Happy Fella" and orchestras, some sixty strong, arrived in Ellenville Monday and immediately began rehearsals at the Hotel Cathalia where they will be quartered throughout the season.

The "Most Happy Fella" will have six consecutive evening performances beginning July 1 with a July 4 matinee. Some of those invited to attend the opening are: Mayor Edwin F. Radcliff, Kingston; Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Woodstock; Robert Sabin, president, Chamber of Commerce, Kingston; Mayor Raymond Swalm, Middletown; Mayor William Ryan, Newburgh; Commissioner Edward Dickinson, Department of Commerce, State of New York, Albany; Warren Kelly, president, Chamber of Commerce, Middletown; Edward Miner, president, Orange County Community College, Middletown; Assemblyman Hyman Mintz, Monticello; Mayor J. George Spitz, Poughkeepsie and Mayor James Murphy, Port Jervis.

Following in succession will be "Brigadoon," "Guys and Dolls," "Where's Charley?," "Carousel" and "Damn Yankees." Matinees for these productions will be on Thursday each week with special rates prevailing for camps and groups of children.

A small army of workmen have completed the sloping of the floor inside the tent and Mr. Forest's goal to improve visibility from every seat has been achieved.

ONE FOOT TUCKED UNDER HER

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a short person and when sitting in a deep sofa or chair I find it much more comfortable to sit with one foot tucked under me. I have been criticized for this and told that it is not a proper way for a lady to sit. I would very much like to know your opinion of this.

Answer: On a formal occasion in the house of one who is almost a stranger, a woman is expected to keep her feet off the furniture. In her own home or elsewhere in the evening when wearing a full skirt and indoor slippers or sandals, sitting on one foot in the corner of a deep sofa can be a graceful and not improper way to sit.

On Leaving a Taxi

Dear Mrs. Post: My fiancé insists that after alighting from a taxi, the woman walks directly to the entrance of the place to which they are going, while the man pays the driver. I maintain she waits on the curb near him and they walk together into the building. Which one of us is right?

Answer: She walks on slowly and he catches up with her. If the weather were very bad he would pay the driver before leaving the cab and both would hurry to shelter together.

Visiting a Relative

Dear Mrs. Post: I intend to visit a relative of my fiancé and would like to know what obligations I shall have as a house guest. How can I repay this relative? I doubt that I could invite her to visit us.

Answer: You are under no obligation further than being agreeable and appreciative while you are her guest. Afterwards write her a bread-and-butter letter and tell her how much you enjoyed your visit. It is neither necessary nor expected that you return her invitation.

Every letter should be written with care and on the proper stationery. To improve your letters both in appearance and in wording, you will find Mrs. Post's booklet No. 502, "Letter Writing," helpful. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EF, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Enjoy Companionship of Family Life Says Millionaire and Inventor Charles Darrow

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Writer

It takes two to tango, and two to enjoy most of the other pleasant things of life.

This is a conclusion reached by an American husband who quit work 25 years ago and has spent the time since discovering the endless wonders of the world in company with his wife.

"When a man and woman get married, they look forward to companionship for the rest of their lives," says Charles B. Darrow of Cedarrows Farm, Bucks County, Pa.

"But too often the man gets so involved in the pressures of business that his wife rarely sees him—and when she does he is too tired to talk."

"When fate made it possible, I decided to spend the rest of my life enjoying the companionship of my wife and family, and I have never regretted that decision."

The event that made this idyllic life possible was Darrow's invention of the game Monopoly, which since has sold 20 million copies and made Darrow a millionaire.

When the great American depression hit bottom in the 1930s he was out of a job and flat broke. His wife was expecting a baby and there was no money for doctor bills. So the Darrowes started playing games—and the result was the game which has outlasted most others in history.

At first Darrow made the games by hand and marketed them. Then he sold the patent and retired to live on his royalties.

The Darrowes now live on a 300-acre farm where they raise orchids and make color movies for fun. They have two sons and two grandsons and every year they take a trip together to a different country.

"We have a wonderful time whenever we go," says Darrow. "Mrs. Darrow looks for rare orchid specimens to bring home and I take color movies."

Darrow was in his middle 40s when he struck it rich. Now he is approaching 70 and says: "One thing everybody should realize is that the later years of life can be the happiest—if there are two of you to enjoy them together."

YWCA Delegates to Attend Conference

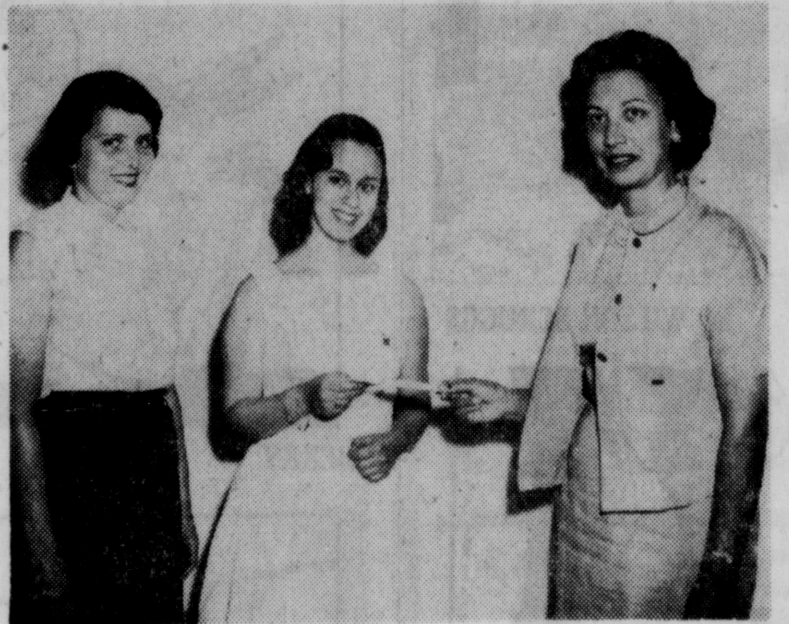

Four young women from the Kingston YWCA will be attending the second half of the National YWCA Eastern Region Summer Conference for Young Adults the weekend of June 27-29. First part of the conference will take place at the University of New Hampshire with field trips to a nearby farm, Marblehead, Gloucester, Rockport, Mass., and nearby military bases and their communities. The trips and accompanying discussion groups will focus on the theme, "Inside Modern New England." Second part of the conference will be at Silver Bay on Lake George.

Three YWCA clubs will be represented by four young women attending the Silver Bay Conference. From The Little Women of the "Y" Miss Linda Hall and Miss Nancy Von Ahnen; from the Y-Wives Club, Mrs. George Poythress; from the Junior Married Women's Club, Mrs. Eugene Collins. Since members of delegates' families may attend this conference and take advantage of the recreational features of it, Eugene Collins will accompany his wife.

At the end of the YWCA National Convention held in St. Louis, Mo., in March a new YWCA triennium began. "A Forward Look," the theme of the Silver Bay Conference, is an indication that in the business sessions the attention will be on forming guide lines for young adult program in the YWCA Eastern Region for this new YWCA triennium, 1958-59.

B'nai B'rith Annual Scholarship Given

Miriam Schechter, 17-year-old Kingston High School graduating senior, has won the B'nai B'rith Women's annual scholarship, announced Mrs. Arnold Pinsky, president, today.

The $100 award was based on a letter from applicants stating their post-graduate aims as well as their school records. The scholarship committee consisted of Miss Blanche Kirshenblum, chairman, Mrs. Pinsky and Mrs. Eugene Abramsky.

Miss Schechter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Schechter of 199 Downs Street, will enter

Lake Erie College, Painesville, O., in the fall where she will major in political science with an eye towards a career in law. Recently listed in Who's Who Among Student Leaders of American High Schools, she was a member of Prisma, the Student Executive Council, the Webster Hayne Debating Society, Tri-Hi, Band, Chorus, Quill and Scroll, and the French Honor Society. She also served as feature and managing editor of "Dame Rumor" and as a delegate to the Student Model Congress.

Last year she accepted the post of B'nai B'rith Girls president and also served as regional secretary. She is a former leader of Young Judea.

Berkshire Festival Opens July 4; Boston Symphony Orchestra Will Play Bach Music

The opening concerts of the Berkshire Festival at Tanglewood, Lenox, Mass., presented by the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Charles Munch, music director, will be held next Friday and Saturday, July 4 and 5 at 8:30 and next Sunday, July 6 at 2:30. All three concerts will be devoted to the music of Bach and will be performed by a chamber orchestra of Boston Symphony musicians.

The concerts of Friday and Saturday, both conducted by Charles Munch, will be held in the Theatre-Concert Hall. On Friday evening, Dr. Munch will perform the four suites of Bach, No. 1 in C major; No. 2 in B minor for Flute and Strings (in this work the popular first flutist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Doriot Anthony Dwyer, will appear as soloist); No. 3 in D major, No. 4 in D major.

Soloist at the Saturday concert will be Lukas Foss, the first of the young American pianists who will be featured at this year's festival. In addition to his appearances as piano soloist, Mr. Foss, a noted composer, is a member of the Composition Department of the Berkshire Music Center at Tanglewood. He will appear in Bach's Piano Concerto in D minor. The remainder of the program will be devoted to Bach's Art of Fugue, arranged for String Orchestra.

Sunday afternoon's concert at 2:30 will be held in the Music Shed. G. Wallace Woodworth, retiring conductor of the Harvard Glee Club and Radcliffe Choral Society will conduct these two groups with the Boston Symphony Orchestra in a performance of Bach's E Minor Mass. Soloists will include Adele Addison, soprano; Eunice Alberts, contralto; Blake Stern, tenor; and Donald Gramm, bass. Dr. Munch has invited Mr. Woodworth, who this spring announced his retirement after twenty-five years as regular conductor of the Harvard Glee Club, to conduct this concert in celebration of the Glee Club's 100th Anniversary and this will be his final concert with the two groups.

The final rehearsal for the B Minor Mass on Saturday morning at 10 a. m. in the Music Shed will be open to the public for the benefit of the Orchestra's Pension Fund.

The opening concert of the Wednesday evening chamber music series will take place on Wednesday, July 2 in the Theatre-Concert Hall at 8:30. The Budapest String Quartet, making its first Tanglewood appearance will be heard in Haydn's String Quartet in D major ("The Lark"); Bartok's String Quartet No. 1 in A minor, Op. 7 and Beethoven's Quartet in E minor, Op. 59, No. 2. Ulster Garden Club Plans Community Planting Projects

At the monthly meeting of Ulster Garden Club held at the home of Mrs. C. J. Gross, the members approved expenditures of their money for Civic Planting. It was determined that some of this would be done at the Senate House and the Public Library. Further details regarding additional planting in the community will be announced.

Considerable discussion centered around the projected razing or demolishing and the need for a Planning Board in this area to better censure our local projects.

Mrs. Mortimer Downer, chairman of conservation, gave a talk on wild flowers under the protection of the state. Colored slides were used for illustrations. Mrs. Terry Staples and Mrs. Burton S. Davis have been delegated to the annual meeting of the Garden Clubs of America at York Harbor, Maine.

Mrs. Herbert Johnson announced that the annual picnic will be held July 13 at the home of Mrs. Jay Lefever in New Paltz. Members are requested to notify the secretary by July 11 regarding their attendance.

TOM THUMB

FROM A MYTH: We call a short person a "Tom Thumb" today as an allusion to P. T. Barnum's midget who won fame throughout the world. Barnum's Tom Thumb (Charles Stratton) was 40 inches tall and weighed 70 pounds. He lived to 45 years of age. Barnum named the midget Tom Thumb from a mythical character who was popular in folk tales.

Kansas City Monarchs Slated at Dietz Stadium on July 7

Bill Van Aken, a two-time winner, goes into the third round of the Herdegen Memorial tournament with a four-stroke bulge over a pair of Wiltwyck Country Club stalwarts—defending champion Leon Randall and Bill Kaufman—next Saturday, with both capable of overhauling him.

Van Aken, however, is no stranger to pressure and can surmount even the toughest courses when his game is harnessed. His tremendous iron shooting at Woodstock and his 3-under-par 135 for the qualifying test indicated the once turbulent champion has everything under control. His 69 scored in 1952 was the lowest round ever fired at the old Wiltwyck layout in the Herdegen competition.

The 69 must not be overlooked by those who think Van Aken will crumble before Wiltwyck's mighty challenge in the third round. He has had a chance to play the course regularly in the IBM League and is reported hanging around par figures. A 72 Saturday would probably enable him to retain the lead.

But with Leon Randall, who sizzled to an all-time low of 277 in 1957, on the course the other challengers experience the same feeling the fourth pro to see Ben Hogan is still out. Randall's four-rounds of 75-68-65-69 last year may stand as the all-time Herdegen record.

If Van Aken and Randall falter, there is Bill Kaufman waiting in the wings. He is within striking distance. From this trio will come the champion. The remainder of the field seems to be too far off the pace. Co-incidentally, Twaalfskill's Big Three of George Hughes, Alvin Boice and Clarence Raichle are tied and would need two spectacular rounds to win.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Playing conditions were nearly perfect for the first two rounds at Ellenville and Woodstock. The Saturday round at Shawangunk was played under leaden skies and through a steady drizzle in the early going. Weather conditions were perfect at Woodstock. . . . The two professionals—Brad Bradford at Ellenville and Jim Hutchins at Woodstock—had their layouts superbly manicured. Ellenville offered several new challenges, tighter fairways, a rugged alternate tee on the first (for the 10th hole). It played tougher than in other years. . . . No question about the calibre of Wiltwyck's golfers. Exactly half the qualifying field—13—were the Wiltwyck stalwarts. It grieved this observer to see Johnny Provencano of Wiltwyck and Frank Barger of Woodstock miss the qualifying cut. They had looked forward to tournament with unrestrained enthusiasm. Johnny had plenty of trouble, while Barger blew his chances on one hole—a big fat 9 on Woodstock's par-five fifth.

• Chips and Putts:

One of the sensations of the tournament was 15-year-old Buzzy Costello of the Kingston High School variety. His 73 at Ellenville was one of the top rounds of the day. Buzzy couldn't hit with the big boys but gave them a lesson in down-the-middle accuracy. . . . Bud Leininger's 75 at Shawangunk included an incredible "9" on the par-5 fourth hole where Dick Stewart equalled the quadruple bogey. Richie Marcus and Richie Diers of Twaalfskill had 10s on the monster. . . . The long tee on Woodstock's par-3 fourth claimed Bill Van Aken as one of its distinguished victims, but Bill Kaufman hit it for 2-3. . . . Fred Allen of Woodstock missed the cut for the second time in eight years but had the honor of being the first to plunk a tee shot in the water on the first hole at Ellenville. . . . Jim Pruden, who has had his share of woes in this tournament, sparkled with a 36 on the back nine at Woodstock. . . . Dubby Raichle made a strong finish at Woodstock for a 69. Jerry Proudfoot, unattached, matched par figures despite a double-bogey five on the 18th hole.

• Of Men and Mice:

One untoward incident marred the first-day action at Ellenville. It ever happens again, the guilty party will incur permanent disqualification. The Herdegen Memorial is open to any golfer in Ulster County, but it doesn't need, nor will it ever tolerate any player who cannot conduct himself in the best tradition of amateur golf. There is no room for a wise guy in the tournament. Furthermore, we believe there are elements in golf who are concerned only with perpetuating the so-called "feud" between Twaalfskill and Wiltwyck. We find no evidence of such a feud. We know that the players get along very nicely. Why kick the sleeping dog? One of the most distinguished entries in the tournament put it best: "We're trying in this tournament to revere the memory of a great man. Let's try to keep it that way."

Braves Click In NY - Penn Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the first time in many a moon, those Wellsville Braves are playing like champions again.

The Braves have slipped from first to fourth in the New York-Penn Baseball League in the past six weeks, but they blasted second-place Batavia 17-4 and 11-1 Monday night at Wellsville.

Luis De Leon, star hurler for the NYP champions last year with a 17-5 record, was back and he won his first start in the second game.

Wellsville Manager Harry Minor latted in eight runs with five hits in both games. He homered in each.

League-leading Corning bowed to visiting Auburn 7-5. Russ Sertes batted in three runs for Auburn and Dick McCabe batted in three for Corning. Rudy Stoehr won his fourth game against no losses.

The Geneva Redlegs edged Elmira 4-3 in the tenth inning at Geneva after tying it in the bottom of the ninth. The tying run was forced in by a walk and the winning run came on an error.

Paul Price, Dave Dickerson and Fern Carson slammed homers for Olean as the Oilers whipped visiting Erie 11-6. Price had four RBI's.

Casper's 285 1st at Flint

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Today is Bill Casper Jr.'s 27th birthday and he has a check for $9,000, a gleaming trophy and the title of golf's leading money winner to make it a happy one.

The beefy ex-challenger from Apple Valley, Calif., packed $9,000 worth of drama and excitement into one final putt Monday. From a distance of 3½ feet he captured the $32,000 Flint Open tournament by a single stroke.

Casper finished with a 71, one-under-par, and his 285 tournament total nosed out Masters champion Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., and Ted Kroll of Sarasota, Fla., by a stroke.

Palmer finished brilliantly with a 69, the finest of the rainy day, while third round leader Kroll staggered in with a 75.

Casper's winnings for the year exceed $31,000.

Kroll and Palmer each picked up $3,800. U. S. Open champion Tommy Bolt finished with 74 and tied for fourth with Doug Ford at 287.

Memphis Red Sox To Be Opponents In League Game

Negro American League

baseball, a major pre-war attraction, returns to Kingston on Monday, July 7, when the fabled Kansas City Monarchs play the Memphis Red Sox in a regular American League game.

The contest will be sponsored jointly by Fred Davi of Kingston and Ted Bayley of Troy, who also operates wrestling shows here.

The Monarchs, a perennial power in the league for the past decade, boast a heralded pitching staff. Most outstanding are righthanders William Jones and Elmer Clark. This pair accounted for 21 victories against five defeats.

Home Run King

Frank Marsh, Monarch first sacker, has few peers. He is clouting the ball at a .361 clip and is tabbed the home run king of the circuit.

Outfielder Palmer Hubbard of the Monarchs is batting .337.

Memphis is led by pitcher Roy (Doc) Beach, who was the league's strikeout king last year.

The Red Sox have their share of home run hitters in Rufus Gipson, Ray Haggins and James Banks.

Pat & George's Trip Chez Emile In Softball, 4-3

Pat and George's softball nine put together most of its nine hits together for four runs in the third and fourth innings to edge Chez Emile, 4-3 in a City Softball contest last night.

Frank Coulard scattered eight hits to get credit for the victory while P. Buttacaro was the loser. Grey, Williams and Pasante paced the hitting attack with two hits apiece. Pasante hit a triple. Farley and Tracy each had a pair of safeties for Chez Emile.

Boating Fast Rising Sport

Associated Press Staff Writer

Whenever 35 million people start doing the same thing at the same time, there's liable to be quite an uproar—even if a great many of them aren't operating motor boats.

In this case, a great many of them are.

Recreational boating, which this season will put out one of every 5 Americans afloat for a varying time in one or another of 7 million pleasure craft, achieves new status, for a presidential proclamation has designated next week as National Safe Boating Week.

Serious boaters are determined to make good use of the period. The Outboard Club, The American Yachtsmen's Assn., The Power Squads and many smaller groups are uniting in a drive to acquaint newcomers to the sport with basic safety regulations before the confusion leads to restrictive legislation.

Vice Admiral A. Richmond of the Coast Guard, which is helping sponsor the week's work, says "a special effort must be made to focus attention on the growing need to know and observe basic safe boating rules."

The Outboard Boating Club of America reminded its membership grimly that its own statistics showed that "a lack of common sense" caused about 35 per cent of boating accidents.

Willey Blanks Giants, Boosts Pitching Staff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Your ace has lost three in a row. Your World Series hero is stumbling along with a 5-5 record. Your most consistent winner is on the disabled list and your pitching staff has come through with only one nine-inning complete game in more than three weeks. You should be dead.

Instead, the Milwaukee Braves reached down to the minors and pulled out a plum named Carleton Willey, a big right-hander who won 21 at Wichita last season. He was the toast of the dozen or so kid pitchers who crowded the spring camp. But come downturn time and he was shipped back to Wichita.

Willey Delivers

Now, with Warren Spahn slumping, Lew Burdette at 500 for 10 decisions and Bob Buhl ailing, Willey was called back, and he came back big—pitching a six-hit shutout in his first major league start and beating second-place San Francisco 7-0 Monday night.

That bounced the Giants 2½ games behind and in danger of being overhauled by St. Louis and Cincinnati. The Cardinals tied the Redlegs for third place, a game behind San Francisco, with a 7-5 victory over Pittsburgh while Cincy was disposing of Los Angeles 6-1. Those were the only games scheduled.

Klu Boots 3

The Pirates built a 3-0 lead against the Cards, then blew it with five errors, three by Ted Kluszewski. Curt Flood had four hits for St. Louis.

Brooks Lawrence (5-3) won his fourth in a row for the Redlegs, going all the way with a six-hit while Cincy handed Johnny Podres his sixth defeat. Singles by Gus Bell and Roy McMillan, a sacrifice by Lawrence and Johnny Temple's single scored the tie-breaking runs in a two-run fifth.

Baseball Debate Starts in House

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The

House moved today toward debate on whether professional baseball's long immunity from antitrust laws should be ended.

The House has before it legislation to spell out how the antitrust laws would apply to four professional team sports—baseball, football, basketball and hockey.

Baseball is most vulnerable because the Supreme Court last year said that under present law baseball is still outside the scope of the antitrust statutes. Football comes under them. There have been no recent test cases on the other sports.

The representatives, who will not vote finally on the measure before Wednesday, could take any of three courses—leave things as they are, with baseball exempt and the exact applicability of the laws to other sports doubtful; or pass either of two pending bills.

The bill officially before the House would apply the antitrust laws to the four sports insofar as their business operations are concerned, but would exempt "reasonably necessary" operations concerned with the games themselves—such as reserve clauses binding players to a particular team; territorial arrangements and the like. But they would have to be proved "reasonably necessary."

The author of this bill, Rep. Emanuel Celler (R-N.Y.), contends at least this much restriction is necessary, or "baseball owners will do as they wish."

But Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), one of a group of authors of a rival bill, has served notice he will try to have it substituted for Celler's. It is similar, but does not confine the exemption to "reasonably necessary" arrangements.

Filly Stakes Attract Record Entries at Historic Track

GOSHEN—A record entry has been received for the four filly stakes that head the inaugural Grand Circuit harness racing program at Historic Track Monday, June 30.

The Coaching Club Trotting Oaks for three-year-old fillies, named from a similar great stake in England, looms as the "Fillies" Hambletonian of the Grand Circuit, the major loop of harness horse racing.

The Coaching Club, inaugurated back in 1941 at a modest $5,845, will be worth better than $18,000 at Historic. It has attracted 35 of the top three-year-old fillies.

Entered in the classic are two of the season's leaders, Emily's Pride and Anna Dares, both owned by Emily's Pride, a bay filly by Star's Pride, posted a mile track mark of 2:04.2 this year at Vernon Downs. She is owned by Castleton Farms of Lexington, Ky., and driven by Flick Nipe.

Anna Dares Entered

Anna Dares, the property of ABC Freight Forwarding Corp., of New York, is a bay filly by Worthy Aristocrat. She took a season's record of 2:05.1 at Laurel, Md., with driver Johnny Simpson.

Egyptian Princess holds the record for the Coaching Club. She won in 2:04 in 1956 and her mark could go past the boards if Emily's Pride and Anna Dares enter the stretch neck and neck.

The opening day card will be rounded out by Acorn Two-Year old Trot, the Ladyship Three-year-old Pace and the Debutante two-year-old pace.

There will be eight or more races each of the five days at Historic Track. Post time has been changed to 1:30 p. m.

Yankee Slump Has Old Casey Double Talking

CHICAGO (AP) — "My guys

ain't hitting."

With that terse statement Manager Casey Stengel summed up the situation after his New York Yankees were blanked by right-hander Ray Moore in a 2-0 loss to the Chicago White Sox Monday night.

It was the fourth time in the last nine games the Yankees had been whitewashed. It was the fifth time this season they had been held scoreless compared to only two shutouts pitched against them last year.

"Our guy (Whitey Ford) pitched good ball. He made only one mistake," said Stengel. "That other guy (Moore) didn't make any. He was real good, even better than when he beat us at New York."

The Little League and minor league sponsored by the businessmen's group will be guests of the Yankees for the New York-New Jersey League contest.

The Association has been instrumental in organizing Little League baseball in the town of Ulster and also sponsors the Indians in the LL.

Ted Musialkiewicz pointed out that Saturday's game will give the small fry a chance to see the professional players in action.

The Association has pledged an advanced ticket sale and a large percentage of the membership is expected on hand for the contest.

Fred Davi, who owns the Kingston franchise, said he was highly pleased by the interest shown in his team by the Ulster businessmen's group.

"I'm happy to see that our team is being recognized in the community," said Davi. "I think we have the makings of a championship team and it's nice to have loyal backers like the businessmen in the town of Ulster."

Giants Still in Race Despite Collapse: Rig

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The June gyrations of the second-place San Francisco Giants have put furrows in the brow of Manager Bill Rigney. But he still entertains lofty ambitions for his young ball club, maybe even the pennant.

"We've been struggling along lately," Rigney said Monday night after the Milwaukee Braves padded their National League lead to 2½ games with a 7-0 decision, "but I've maintained all along that if we can stay close until the All-Star break we'll have a chance."

"We can win the pennant," he said matter-of-factly. "So can any of the other seven clubs. The Braves haven't got this thing sewed up by a long shot. You can't count anybody out yet. Everybody has a chance."

The Giants, victims of a general collapse at the plate and on the mound this month, show a poor 7-13 won-loss record so far in June. That they are still in second place is surprising — and proof that the NL has balance.

In only two of those 20 games has one of Rigney's starters been able to go the route. Johnny Antonelli did it June 13 and Al Worthington June 15 — both against the Phillies.

Netting Fish
For Real Record

COLUMBUS, O. — (NEA) — Vic Dorris keeps records when he goes fishing.

As soon as Dorris' latest catch is in the net, the Columbus fisherman whips out a notebook and enters all the vital statistics. He notes the species and size, as well as the locale, the time of day, temperature of the water and direction of the wind, if any, and the bait and any unusual circumstances.

Dorris checked back and discovered that since 1950, when he began keeping records, he has caught 29,726 fish, most of them released. They weighed a total of eight-and-a-half tons. He counted bluegills only when they were more than six inches, crappies more than eight, bass more than 10 and trout more than 12.

Bruhn and Costello Early
Entries in Jaycee Golf

Mike Bruhn and William (Buzzy) Costello of the Kingston High School varsity among the early standouts registering for the Kingston Jaycee golf eliminations Friday at Wiltwyck Country Club.

The competition is scheduled to start at 9:30 a. m. Friday and will qualify two players for an expenses-paid trip to Niagara Falls for the state finals. The state winners go to Tucson, Arizona, in August.

Other entries to date include: Dick Barthel, Fred Barthel, Lenny Beaver, Vince Montafia, Bob Beechors, Ronnie Higgins and Bob Gessex. Entry blanks are available at all area clubs and the Junior Chamber of Commerce office at the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

Bank Note Wins
Saratoga Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bank Note, a full brother to 1952 Hambletonian winner Sharp Note, pulled away from a 24 to 1 shot in the last 16th to win a division of the $2,400 Hoosick Falls Trot Monday night at Saratoga Raceway.

Ultra Way, the longshot who finished second, set the pace for a fast 2:04 4-5 mile by going the first half in 1:01 3-5. Bank Note, owned by Arden Stable of Goshen and driven by Harry Pownall, challenged Ultra Way at the three-quarter mark but was unable to overtake him until near the end of the race. The winner returned $3.80.

Chalidale Irene, with Clarence Franklin driving for owners Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Clay Jr. of Hyde Park, won the other division in 2:09 3-5. She paid $5.70.

Be Lucky, an early season winner at Buffalo Raceway, triumphed again in the class A $1,700 feature trot in 2:07 3-5. Driven by Bud Gilmour, Be Lucky paid $3.00. He is owned by Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wehle of Scottville.

Billy's Lady, a veteran pacing mare, won by a half length over Hal Frost in the $3,500 Old Westbury Class A pace at Roosevelt Raceway. The 8-year-old side-wheeler, with Stanley Dancer in the sulky, returned $10.60. Billy's Lady, owned by the Rainbow Stable of Taneytown, Md., was timed in 2:06 1-5. Express Byrd and Cal wound up in a dead heat for third place.

At Vernon Downs, Emily's Pride captured the feature Class B trot in 2:02 for the fastest mile posted by a Hambletonian candidate this season at the Oneida track.

Emily's Pride, driven by Flave Nipe, raced in second place until the top of the stretch when she pulled away from the pace-setting Carmite Hanover. The winner, owned by Castleton Farm and Walnut Hill Farm, returned $3.50.

Bold Ruler Gets
138 Top Weight

NEW YORK (AP) — Wheatley Stables' Bold Ruler Monday was assigned to top weight of 138 pounds for Saturday's $25,000-added Roseben Stakes at Belmont Park. This is the most weight any horse has ever been asked to carry in the event.

In his last race, Bold Ruler, still an uncertain starter in the Roseben, finished second to Gallant Man in the June 14 Metropolitan mile, while carrying 135 pounds.

Wiley Pays Off
Braves Investment

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Carl Wiley, shy, 27-year-old right-hander paid the world champion Milwaukee Braves their first dividend Monday night on an investment of $800.

The Braves paid him that sum to sign with their organization in 1951 when scout Jeff Jones spotted the diminutive fast-ball pitcher at a New England try-out camp.

In his first major league start, Wiley shut out the San Francisco Giants 7-0 on six hits, three of them by rookie Leon Wagner.

Rhubard Spices
Eastern Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fast-swinging free-for-all added spice to the York-Reading doubleheader in Monday night's Eastern League play and resulted in the heavy-ho for York Manager Joe Schultz and two players from each team.

Reading won the first game 5-0 with six-hit pitching by Ed Drapcho. The melee broke out in the third inning of the nightcap. A pitch got away from York hurler Bill Garcia and Dave Mann of Reading bit the dust to avoid it.

On the next pitch, Mann swung wildly, the bat sailed toward Garcia, and the fight was on. All hands pitched in and when order was restored, Schultz, Walt Matthews and Ernie Palmieri of York and Mann and Stan Turner of the Indians were banished from the game.

York finally won 3-2, bunting four singles for two runs with two out in the ninth.

In other games, Springfield lost a 4-1 decision to Albany as Howie Reed issued only five singles and struck out 11, and Lancaster knocked off Allentown 9-4 on a 15-hit barrage. Binghamton and Williamsport were idle.

Greaves Wins
6th Straight

NEW YORK (AP) — At 22 Willie Greaves has been put through the fistic wringer. Apparently learning the hard way against the best fighters in the middleweight division has made a pretty good scrapper out of the farm boy from Edmonton, Alberta.

The youngster scored a unanimous ten-round decision over Otis Woodard of New York at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night. It was his sixth straight victory.

He holds the Canadian middleweight crown and is being primed for a title crack at British Empire champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria.

But first Willie will take on Ralph Jones of Yonkers or Chico Vejar of Stamford, Conn., at the Calgary Stampede, a big rodeo, in late July or August. That's the schedule mapped out today by C. W. Smith, a Detroit promoter who advises Manager Tony Ross. Although he was outweighted 161 to 159, Greaves seemed much stronger than the 23-year-old Woodard. He forced the fight and scored the more effective punches.

Redlegs Buy
Alex Kellner

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs Monday bought relief pitcher Alex Kellner from the Kansas City Athletics and sold reliever Turk Lown to the Chicago White Sox.

No figures were announced but both players had to be waived out of the league.

The Redlegs obtained Lown only a few weeks ago in trade with the Chicago Cubs for Hershel Freeman. He has seen limited service since being here. He is 34.

The 33-year-old Kellner has been with the Athletics since 1948 and his best season was 1949 when he had a 20-12 mark when the club still was in Philadelphia.

Ulster Indians
Nip Yanks in 7th

Despite a grand slam homer by Greg Basset in the seventh inning and three other hits by the hard-hitting Yankee catcher, his teammates dropped a high scoring 19-18 contest to the Indians in the Ulster Little League last night.

The Tribe won the game in the last half of the overtime frame with eight-run output after trailing 18-11. The game was deadlocked 11-11 after 6 R. Koyan was on the receiving end of the outburst. D Boice started for the Yanks. John Bream, Bill Palen's relief gets the win.

Barry Fraser and Charlie Lay were the bigger gun for the winners with three hits each. The summaries:

Yankees 006 230 7-18
Indians 004 502 8-19
Boice, Koyan and G. Basset; Palen, Bream and Elliott.

Bush's Hitting Features Yanks
Win Over Giants

The hitting of Guy Bush featured the Yanks 3-2 win over the Dodgers in the American Little League. Bush tripled and doubled in two runs and then stole home for the third.

Bob Smith, the Dodgers' hard-hitting pitcher, went 2 for 2 and boosted his batting average to .778, highest in the league.

Don Van Keuren fanned 11 in gaining the win. Smith set seven down on strikes.

The summaries:
Yanks 002 010-3
Dodgers 100 001-2
Van Keuren and Bush; Smith and Franch.

Mohawks Trounce
Apaches in Met

The Mohawks routed the Apaches by a 12-4 score in a Metropolitan Knothole League contest last night at Met Field.

The Mohawks used three pitchers, with J. Myers getting credit for the victory. D. Godbey scattered six hits, but he was the victim of some poor fielding. L. Clearwater slapped a double for the only extra base blow of the game.

The summaries:
Apaches 030 010-4
Mohawks 042 60x-12
Godbey, Playford and Murphy; J. Myers, Frost, Cuff and Castiglione.

Cubs Rally in
6th Beats Tigers

The Cubs staged a three-run rally in the sixth inning to shade the Tigers, 7-6 in a Rondout Valley Little League game last night.

George Reagan and Wayne Temple led the seven-hit attack for the winners with two hits apiece. One of Temple's hits was a double.

Don Burhans gave up eight hits and fanned seven for the Cubs while Tom Tegeler and Bob Rossier shared the pitching duties for the Tigers.

The summaries:
Tigers 001 104-6
Cubs 100 213-7
Tegeler, Rossier and Judd; Burhans and Temple.

Fisher Outduels
Ackert in N. L. L.

The Indians scored four runs in the fifth to overcome a 2-0 lead and went on to edge the Pirates 5-3 in a National Little League game last night.

It was a well pitched game by Bruce Ackert of the Pirates and Vince Fisher. The Shultis Indians got six hits and the VFW Pirates five.

Marshall Suskie had a double and single to lead the winners while Wally Lucas and Willy Hayes pounded out four of the losers five hits.

The summaries:
Indians 000 041-5
Pirates 200 001-3
Fisher and Costello; Ackert and McGowan.

Red Sox Score,
Hand Dodgers
First Defeat

There were a couple of firsts in the Town of Hurley Little League last night. The Dodgers lost their first game of the campaign and the Red Sox hit the victory column for the first time.

Dick Hart has the distinction of breaking the Dodger streak. He limited the hard-hitting nine to six hits and was tough in the clutch since he gave up nine walks. He aided the cause with a circuit ball. Ken Beesmer crashed one for the Dodgers.

Vince Crantz pitched good ball. He was the victim of shoddy support. He struck out 11 and was reached for seven hits, two each by Alan Vogt and Hart.

The summaries:
Red Sox 130 020-6
Dodgers 022 000-4
Hart and Goins; Crantz and Dugan.

Hawks Claw Wren
In Jaycee League

The Hawks scored six runs in the last inning and handed the Wrens a 14-9 pasting in the Jaycee Little League last night at Forsyth Park.

The Wrens dented home five times in the opening frame, but couldn't hold onto the lead as the Hawks scored seven runs in the second and third innings.

Findholt went the distance for the win, while Sperling gets the loss. Findholt aided his cause with a triple and two singles. Werbolowsky crashed a homer for the Wrens.

The first game of the playoffs to determine a first half champion will be held tonight between the Hawks and Eagles.

The summaries:
Hawks 025 106-14
Wrens 502 002-9
Findholt and Higgins; Sperling and Werbolowsky.

New Gardens Ace
Heads for Title

MAMARONECK, N. Y. (AP) — Top-seeded Patricia Stewart of New Gardens hoped to keep rolling in the women's New York State tennis championships today when she faced Miss Carol Mawby of Glen Head in a third round match.

Miss Stewart, a finalist last year, brushed aside Carol Gagliano of Farmingdale 6-0, 6-0 Monday. Miss Mawby turned back Beverly Weber of Mamaroneck, 6-2, 6-2 in her opening match.

Bill Murphy One-Hits Legion
As Kiwanis Score 5-2 in BRL

Unleashing a four-run barrage in the first inning, the Kiwanis nine went on to trim the American Legion 5-2 behind the one-hit pitching of Bill Murphy last night in a Babe Ruth League encounter at Dietz Stadium.

Murphy's lack of control spoiled his bid for a shutout as he walked 9 which led to runs in the fifth and seventh innings. Mike Celuch was equally as stingy in the hit department, giving up three hits, two singles and a triple to Bob Geisler. Joe Uhl got the only Legion hit.

The schedule for the remainder of the week is as follows: Tonight, K of C vs. Vols, 6 p. m.; Wednesday Elks vs. VFW, 6 p. m. and Rotary vs. KPA, 8:45. The score:

Konsek Fires 73
To Take Lead in Collegiate Golf

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (AP) — John Konsek of Purdue has the confident self assurance which could lead him to the 61st National Collegiate golf title.

Unruffled by the fact he is four strokes back of the qualifying pace setters, Konsek puts it on the line:

"I'm going to be very hard to beat in this tournament."

Two-thirds of the huge field played half of the necessary 36 qualifying holes Monday. Some play the other half today, others Wednesday. The final one-third starts today and winds up Wednesday when the low 64 win the right to enter showdown match play.

Konsek shot a two-over-par 36-73 Monday.

Out in front were Houston's Phil Rodgers and Bernie Magnusen of Stanford with 69s. Dick Whetzel of North Texas, Southern Intercollegiate champ the past two years, Ab Justice of Oklahoma State and Duke's Dick Siderowf had 71s. There were 10 players at 72.

The Concours class will assemble at 10 a. m. and the judging will start as soon after the group is lined up.

Judges are Robert Sharp, Owen Fraking and H. B. Avery. All are members of the Automobile Club of the Upper Hudson Valley Inc.

Trophies will be awarded in the Car Capers best "in over 100" and the best "in under 100." The Watkins Glen system of judging will be used.

Awards also will be given in the Concours division, with ribbons for second place.

The Red Sox, in town for a series with the Indians, Monday night sent the former St. Louis schoolboy phenom to their Memphis farm in the Class AA South-eastern Assn. He remains Boston property.

Baumann had a 2-2 record with Boston this season. In the six years since Boston signed him, Baumann has won a total of seven games.

Educators Convene

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Do prospective teachers spend too much time learning HOW to teach, and not enough learning about WHAT they're going to teach?

The question of what to teach the teacher has become one of the thorniest problems in American education. It's going to get a long, hard look-see from some 1,000 educators and education officials who gathered here today for the opening of a five-day convention on teacher education and professional standards.

A report issued earlier this week by the Rockefeller Brothers Fund put the problem this way: "In some states, the requirements for (teacher) certification are so technical and trivial as to make it unlikely that individuals with a first class liberal education would even apply—or be eligible if they did apply."

The nine sponsoring agencies hope some sort of agreement on teacher training and certification can be reached and put into effect nationwide.

Report Soviet Movements

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Swedish observers reported today that about 14 Soviet warships passed through the Kattegat into the Atlantic Monday and last weekend.

The fleet included a cruiser of the Sverdlov class, three destroyers, four submarines and tankers. The Kattegat lies between Sweden and Denmark and links the Baltic with the Atlantic.

It was believed the Soviet warships were bound for Atlantic maneuvers or were on their way to the Mediterranean.

Heading for Beach

CONCORD, N.C. (AP)—"Aunt" Pinky Gaines says she's retiring and heading for the beach, even though "I look like a fool wearin' them shawl britches." She made her plans when, at the age of 107, she received her first social security check through the efforts of friends who established her birthdate as 1851.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Barclay Heights, Glasco Water Use Restricted

Restrictions against garden and lawn sprinkling, and excessive use of water for residents of Barclay Heights and all within the boundary of Glasco Water District, were announced today by a spokesman for the Glasco Board of water commissioners.

It was emphasized that no water shortage existed, but due to the excessive use of water for gardening and lawns, pressure is at the danger level and this might create a hazard in the event of a fire in the district.

The district purchases its water from the Village of Saugerties, and it was reported this morning that at least three inches of water was going over the dam at the Blue Mountain Reservoir, which supplies water to the village and the Glasco systems.

Restrictions will be in force until further notice in order to increase the pressure, the spokesman said.

Over 75 Youngsters Attend Open House

More than 75 Saugerties youngsters attended the second open house event at Saugerties VFW Hall Saturday from 6 to 10 p. m.

According to an informal survey conducted by Mrs. Marion Eckert for Saugerties Youth Council, the teen and near teens favored later hours for the open house—6:30 to 10:30 or 7 to 11 p. m.

Music for dancing was available and games were played. Some of the youngsters indicated that they would like some square dance records for use at future events.

Chaperones in addition to Mrs. Eckert were Mrs. Marita Stay, Mrs. Vivian Barkhoff and Kermit Eckert.

Full Days Activities Offered on July 4th

The Saugerties Jaycees are planning a full day's activities for the July 4 observance which will start at 1 p. m. with the largest parade ever held in Saugerties. There are over 90 floats, vehicles and marching units combined in the parade.

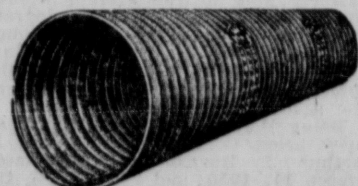

At 3:30 p. m. there will be a New York-New Jersey League ball game between the Saugerties Dutchmen and the Poughkeepsie Bakers at Cantine Field.

At dusk, at Cantine Field a $1,000 Savings Bond or a Motor boat will be awarded.

During the afternoon and evening refreshment stands will be open at Cantine Field.

In the evening, a bigger and better than ever fireworks display will be held at Cantine Field.

Senate Approves Greater Sharing Of Atom Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, adding two restrictions of its own, has passed a bill to permit greater sharing of U.S. military atomic secrets with Allied nations.

The measure now goes to conference with the House, which rejected any amendments in passing the same measure overwhelmingly last week.

The two changes were proposed by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM). One would permit the President to transfer non-nuclear parts of atomic weapons only to Great Britain. The original bill would have authorized them to be sent to any friendly nation.

The other struck out a catch-all section allowing the President to give allies data on "other military applications of atomic energy." Anderson said this power was too broad and that it was not clear how it would be used. The bill would allow transfer to Britain of designs for nuclear weapons, fissionable material to make them, and non-nuclear components of weapons.

To other allies, the United States could give data on sizes and effects of atomic weapons, reactor designs, and atomic fuels for nuclear-powered submarines and other types of military power plants.

De Gaulle, Norstad Meet

PARIS (AP)—Premier Charles de Gaulle today conferred with Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme allied commander in Europe, on France's role in Western defense. The French leader saw NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak Monday.

Aides stressed that the meeting of the U.S. chief of the Western alliance with De Gaulle indicated the importance the premier attaches to France's ties with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Blasted Out of Bed

CUMBERLAND, Ky. (AP) — O. M. Henson went soaring out of bed and landed unhurt when two dynamite charges went off right under him. The bed was demolished. Henson said he has been sleeping in his son's grocery store lately to frustrate burglary attempts. The blasts caused an estimated $500 damage.

Heads Luther League

Anneget Kusserow of Catskill was elected president of the Luther League of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp at a recent reorganizational meeting at the parish hall.

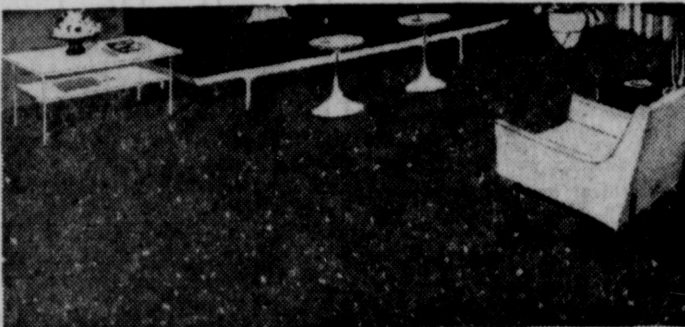

Others named were Janet Schlenker, vice president; Irene Martin, secretary and Hilde Martin, treasurer, all of West Camp.

West Camp Picnic

A hay wagon ride will be available for the annual Sunday school picnic at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp Saturday, June 28 at Trpk's Picnic Grove.

The hay wagon and other cars will leave the church at 9 a. m. The committee has mailed cards to all Sunday school members listing what they are to bring. The families and friends of members are invited.
